Welcome to the Digitalization Hub Istanbul

Istanbul is the largest city in Turkey and one of the major cities in the world. The city was always important and big since the Byzantine and Ottoman periods, but its dramatic growth started in the 1950's parallel to Turkey's rapid industrialization. Today it is a hot spot for digital transformation.

At our close partner MEXT, our INC office is in the middle of one of the largest showcases and training centers for digitalization in the world.

And what better way is there to show how Industry 4.0 adds value than by seeing it in a real production, designed with the newest technology for training purposes?

From there we can tap into a strong network in a dynamic region – not only Turkey, but the whole middle east.
