Trainual PLAYBOOK 2026

Hey [Boss's Name] —

I've been thinking about how we can level-up our processes and training in 2026, and came across Trainual's user conference, May 14 - 16, in Phoenix.

It's basically a concentrated dose of "how high-performing teams run" — accountability, people performance, better meetings, and change management. Looks like they've flipped it from years past to be super hands-on for their power users, with lots of working sessions that I think we'd definitely benefit from. (I heard through the grapevine that they're dropping some performance-related features that they'll cover in those sessions, too.)

It might make sense for a few of us to go together.

We can:
• Take a hard look at how we're doing things now against best practices
• Collaborate on some new strategies in the working sessions
• Bring back concrete ideas to level up the team (process, accountability, performance)
• Turn what we learn into a clear H2 game plan for our Trainual account

Feels like a smart investment as we head into H2 and want to tighten performance and execution across the team.

Happy to talk it through it in our 1:1.

Heads up, their lowest pricing ends Feb 16. You can check it out at Trainual.com/playbook.
