COMMUNITY CARE NETWORK

The HealthierHere Community Care Network (CCN) is an innovative social care network focused on improving health equity in King County, WA through whole-person care coordination. The network brings together community, tribal, native-led/native-serving, social service, healthcare, and behavioral health organizations to address community members' unmet social needs that are essential to their health and well-being.

What The Network Offers

Robust referral network to connect clients to trusted community guides

Cross-sector collaboration, learning, and convenings

Equitable co-design and partnership opportunities

Support for community-based organizations

Data and technology solutions to enable and improve care coordination

Ways to Participate

PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Organizations have various ways to partner with the network, including through the HealthierHere Community Hub, Connect2 technology, and more.

INPUT, LEARNING & GUIDANCE SPACES

Centered on co-creation and the expertise of the community-based workforce, the network offers opportunities to build relationships and inform efforts to improve health outcomes.
