What We Discover After Screening Employee Populations

Most employers believe their workforce is relatively healthy. When MiSalud conducts on-site health screenings, we uncover a very different reality.

The Hidden Health Reality

More employees are living with chronic conditions than anyone realizes.

74% - of employees are diagnosed with at least one chronic condition, discovered through MiSalud's comprehensive on-site health screenings

17% - have two chronic conditions
7% - have three or more conditions Most - were previously undiagnosed or unmanaged

Many of these conditions were previously undiagnosed - employees had no idea they were at risk until we screened them.

The Awareness Gap

Half of employees didn't know something was wrong.

50%+ - of employees were unaware they had an unmanaged chronic condition

Without early detection, these conditions often lead to:

ER visits and hospitalizations

Missed work and lost productivity

Long-term health complications

Escalating, avoidable healthcare costs

MiSalud screenings create the moment where employees finally understand what is happening with their health - often for the very first time.

Trust Drives Engagement

When employees trust their care team, they show up for their health.

25% - of employees enroll in ongoing chronic condition care programs.

This happens because employees don't just receive information - they build a genuine relationship with a care team they trust.

Meet their provider face-to-face, in person

Receive care in their own language

Feel comfortable asking real questions

Build lasting trust with their care team

What This Means for Employers

Address health risks earlier — before they become costly.

MiSalud helps organizations uncover and manage workforce health risks before they escalate into disruptions, absenteeism, or expensive emergency care.

Earlier Diagnosis

Catch chronic conditions before they escalate to crisis-level care.

Higher Engagement

Employees who feel heard and understood actually use their benefits.

Fewer ER Escalations

Proactive primary care reduces reliance on expensive emergency settings.

A Healthier Workforce

Supported employees are more present, productive, and resilient.

Healthcare access alone doesn't solve the problem.

Employees need care they trust, understand, and actually use.

That's what MiSalud delivers.
