

THE POWER OF PROGRAMMING IS IN YOUR HANDS

The only A/V that scales and improves just got better

A new version of LUCI is on its way, putting more day-to-day programming control in your hands—across the room, the interface, and the operation. We've built a faster, more responsive foundation, so LUCI and the room move together, the moment you act.

Greater control of the room

Tune in-room panels, stage events, and group audio zones.

 Session control

01 Greater control of the guest experience

Venue panels

In-venue tablets show only the approved controls for that space.

Staging

Prepare screens, sources, and audio levels behind the scenes and apply the changes on cue.

Audio group control

Move several audio zones together either incrementally or to a single level.

02 Flexible control of your view

Customizable interface

Make LUCI your own with brand colors, light and dark modes, backslashes, and more.

Live map flexibility

Upload your own floor plan maps to their true geography and rotate them to match your view.

Live screen view

See what's playing on any TV or LED wall from your iPad or any browser device, shown exactly as it appears live.

03 Informed control of operations

Audit trails

Trace each action to a person, preset, or schedule and export the record when needed.

Monitoring & analytics

See current status, then review incidents, latency, command results, and preset activity over time.

Sign-in & session control

Use email, PIN, or Microsoft for sign-in, end sessions on command, or message everyone in the platform.

PLUS

In-product support

Raise a request from a device, incident, or error with context and logs attached—and when something on your property goes down, the LUCI team gets an alert so they can jump on it right away.
