

Your Move-In Ready Closet Starts Here

A step-by-step guide to knowing your storage needs

KNOW YOUR STORAGE NEEDS

WHY THIS GUIDE MATTERS

You already know you need a closet—but waiting until after move-in to figure it out? That's a costly mistake.

Without a plan, you'll be:

- Living out of boxes longer than expected
- Scrambling for last-minute storage solutions
- Dealing with clutter from day one

A move-in ready closet changes everything. It's more than storage—it's the key to an organized, stress-free home from move-in day 1.

This guide will help you map out your storage needs step by step—so you can step into a perfectly organized home from day 1.

Take inventory of your storage needs

Before you can create the perfect closet, you need to understand what you're storing. Taking a detailed inventory ensures that your new closet is designed around your actual needs—not just a rough guess. Here's a step-by-step guide to evaluating your clothes, accessories and shoes to make the best storage decisions.

01

CLOTHING CATEGORIES: WHAT DO YOU OWN?

Take stock of every type of clothing you own, considering how often you use them and how they should be stored.

Everyday Wear

T-shirts, jeans, work attire, casual outfits

Occasional Wear

Evening dresses, suits, uniforms, cultural wear

Seasonal Clothing

Jackets, sweaters, swimsuits (do you need seasonal storage solutions?)

Specialty Items

Gym wear, formal suits, maternity clothing

Sleepwear & Loungewear

Pajamas, robes, slippers

Tack Shop Woodwork Tip

A well-planned closet means everything has a home. Think about your wardrobe—are you a suit-and-tie professional or more of a casual, everyday dresser? Your closet should reflect your lifestyle.

02

HANGING VS. FOLDING: HOW DO YOU STORE YOUR CLOTHES?

Consider how much space you need for hanging vs. folding.

Long Hanging

Dresses, coats, formal wear

Short Hanging

Shirts, blouses, pants

Folding/Stacking

Sweaters, jeans, workout wear

The Tack Shop Woodwork Tip

Not everything needs a hanger—folded storage can maximize space for items that hold their shape, like sweaters and jeans.

SHOE STORAGE: HOW MANY PAIRS DO YOU OWN?

Most homeowners underestimate how much shoe storage they need. Count and categorize your collection.

Heels & Dress Shoes

Require display space or protective storage

Everyday Shoes & Sneakers

Easy access shelves

Sandals & Flats

Stackable or slide-in storage

Boots

Taller shelving

The Tack Shop Woodwork Tip

Shoe storage isn't just about space—it's about protecting your investment. Consider whether you need enclosed shelving, slide-out racks, or a simple shoe wall.

03

INVENTORY

ACCESSORIES & SPECIALTY STORAGE NEEDS

A great closet isn't just about clothes—it's also about having a dedicated place for the small essentials.

Handbags & Backpacks

Open shelving, hanging hooks, or cubbies

Belts & Ties

Slide-out racks, hooks, or small compartments

Jewelry & Watches

Velvet-lined drawers or hidden storage

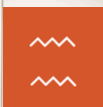

Hats & Scarves

Hooks or stackable bins

The Tack Shop Woodwork Tip

Accessories get lost in cluttered spaces. A well-organized closet makes it easy to grab what you need without rummaging through piles.

05

HIDDEN STORAGE CONSIDERATIONS

Some items don't need to be on display but still require space.

Luggage & Travel Bags

Overhead storage or deep shelves

Extra Linens & Towels

Built-in drawers or dedicated linen space

Documents & Valuables

Hidden safe or lockable drawer

The Tack Shop Woodwork Tip

A clutter-free home starts with smart storage. Hidden storage zones keep your essentials secure but out of sight.

Analyzing your storage priorities

After completing your inventory,
ask yourself:

*What do I need the most storage
for?*

Clothes? Shoes? Accessories?

What's my biggest storage frustration? Lack of hanging space? No shoe storage?

*What are my "must-have" closet
features?*

(E.g., double hanging space, jewelry drawer, built-in hamper)

The Tack Shop Woodwork Tip

Your closet should work for
YOU. Prioritize what matters
most so you create a space
that simplifies your life, not adds to the clutter.

A closet that works for you—from move-in day 1

You've taken the first and most important step—understanding exactly what you need from your closet.

By taking inventory of your clothes, shoes, accessories, and storage priorities, you've set yourself up for a space that isn't just functional but truly designed for the way you live.

Now, imagine moving in and knowing that everything already has a home. No last-minute shelving runs, no piles of clothes with nowhere to go—just a perfectly organized space waiting for you.

That's the power of a move-in ready closet.
