Fund commentary

The fund navigated the volatility of this past quarter well, outperforming the broader index during the sharp drawdowns of early April, but then still participating well in the market recovery that followed despite a portfolio tilt towards more defensive shares. As a result, outperformance over the MSCI ACWI index for the half-year to June 2025 remains significant.

Major individual contributors to returns for the quarter were pleasingly diverse but again included Broadcom which continued to deliver extraordinary growth in earnings and orders, Quanta Services and GE Vernova (ongoing beneficiaries of US electricity grid densification and renewal), Microsoft, Flutter and AngloGold. Smaller, newer stock contributors included Oracle and Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, both acquired during the quarter at attractive levels but then moving up rapidly in price, preventing us adding more at this stage.

Major detractors from fund performance relative to the MSCI ACWI benchmark for the quarter included UnitedHealth Group, Nvidia (the fund owns some but less than the index weight given our strong view backing Broadcom in a similar AI chip arena), and Fiserv. Noteworthy amongst this list, UnitedHealth continued to struggle following the assassination of divisional CEO Brian Thompson late last year, with overall CEO Sir Andrew Witty leaving the firm during this period. The company has faced intense scrutiny over its claims management practices, not coming out on the right side of some of this analysis, and the overall claims ratio continues to rise. We have not added to the investment in the stock given the degree of uncertainty over forthcoming earnings prospects but held the balance as we remain optimistic that the group is best-placed to benefit longer-term from ongoing need-driven demand for healthcare in the ageing US medically-insured population. Fiserv has been a fairly recent and modestly-sized acquisition in the fund but missed market expectations for its quarterly volume growth in its merchant-facing payments ecosystem (Clover). In contrast with our passive stance on UnitedHealth, we added incrementally to our Fiserv position during the sell-off.

Looking ahead, the portfolio remains well diversified in the face of elevated economic uncertainty. Individual stock positions are the product of fundamental analysis and are less impacted by the top-down influences referenced in our overall market commentary. Nevertheless, we are regularly asked about the fund's overall positioning from a geographic and sectoral perspective. On this score, the fund holds about 50% of exposure in US-listed counters (with the vast majority of these being global businesses). European/UK-listed exposure stands at around 28%. At a sectoral level, the portfolio remains most underweight the IT, Communication Services, Utilities and Consumer Discretionary sectors, with overweight positions clustered in Materials, Healthcare, Consumer Staples and Financials. The positions remain idiosyncratic and with strong upside to our view of their fair intrinsic value.

Collective Investment Schemes (CIS's) are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up, and therefore the CIS manager does not make guarantees with respect to the protection of capital or returns of the investment. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at ruling process and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The portfolio may include underlying foreign investments, and may as a result be exposed to macroeconomic, political, foreign exchange, tax, settlement, reporting or illiquidity risk factors that may be different to similar investments in the South African markets. The underlying foreign investments may also be adversely affected by foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls that may be imposed by the relevant authorities of the relevant countries. The CIS manager reserves the right to close the fund to new investors if it is necessary to limit further inflows for it to be managed in accordance with its mandate.

Investors in the Fund are not protected by any statutory compensation arrangements in England and Wales in the event of the fund's failure. The Financial Conduct Authority does not vouch for the financial soundness of the fund nor for the correctness of any statements made or opinions expressed regarding it. In certain circumstances, a participant's right to redeem his shares may be suspended.

Applicants are assumed to have read and understood the prospectus and accept the risk of an investment in Thornbridge Investment Management LLP. It is understood that they are aware that the portfolio of securities is subject to market fluctuations and to the risks inherent in all investments, and that the price of shares and any income from the shares may go down as well as up, and that the fund may be subject to volatile price movements which may result in capital loss.

Past performance does not predict future returns. No guarantee is provided, either with respect to the capital or the return of the fund. The value of participatory interests or the investments may fluctuate in value and may fall as well as rise. A schedule of fees, charges, maximum commissions, and a detailed description of performance fee calculation and application is available on request. Excessive withdrawals from the fund may place the fund under liquidity pressure and in such circumstances, a process of ring-fencing withdrawal instructions and managed pay-outs may be followed. Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, will be included in overall costs. Actual investment performance will differ based on the initial fees applicable, the actual investment date and the date of reinvestment of income.

Fund valuations take place at approximately 12h00 (GMT) each business day and forward pricing is used. Instructions must reach the manager before 16h30 (GMT) on the dealing date. You can expect to receive withdrawal pay-outs four business days after the dealing day. Large investments or redemptions may be subject to an anti-dilution levy to defray dealing costs and expenses. This levy, where applicable, is applied fully for the benefit of the fund. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the CIS manager.

Dealing prices are calculated on a net asset value and auditor's fees, bank charges and trustee fees are levied against the portfolios. Performance is calculated for the fund as well as the individual investor. Income distributions are included in the performance calculations. Performance numbers and graphs are sourced from Bloomberg as at the date of this document for a lump sum investment, using NAV to NAV basis over all reporting periods with income reinvested. The investment performance is for illustrative purposes only. The investment performance is calculated after taking the actual initial fees and all ongoing fees into account.

The reinvestment of income is calculated on the actual amount distributed per participatory interest by using the ex-dividend date NAV price of the applicable class of the portfolio, irrespective of the actual reinvestment date. The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up. The CIS manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. All CIS are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. Income is reinvested on the investment date.

Total Expense Ratio (TER) is calculated as a percentage of the average net asset value of the portfolio incurred as charges, levies and fees in the management of the portfolio. The TER charged by any underlying fund held as part of a fund's portfolio is included in the fund expenses portion of the TER, but trading and implementation costs incurred in managing the fund is included. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. The 1-year TER is for the 12 months to end of February (updated annually). The 3-year TER is for a rolling 36-month period to the last quarter end (December, March, June and September). Transaction costs are a necessary cost in managing a fund and impacts the fund's return. They should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. The Total Investment Charge is the sum of the Total Expense Ratio (TER) and transaction costs.
