WEST VIRGINIA TRI-SHARE

State Match by Household Size and Income

Find your household size, then the column whose range includes your household's annual gross income. The column heading shows how much of your employer's child care contribution the State of West Virginia matches.

- Income means annual gross household income. Each range starts $1 above the previous tier's limit.
- Households with income below the 100% match range are not eligible for Tri-Share but may qualify for the Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP).
- Households with income above 200% of State Median Income (the top of the 50% column) do not qualify. Households of 9 or more use the limits for 8.
