KEY INFORMATION ABOUT THE MIDKEY NO MONTHLY PAYMENTS LOAN

(This information statement is a requirement under ASIC instrument 23-0033)

What is a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan?
A Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan allows you to borrow money using the equity in your home as security. Fees and interest will be charged on the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan but you usually don't need to make repayments until the end of the loan. The loan must be repaid in full, including fees or interest, when you sell the secured property, if you enter an aged care facility, 12 months after you die, if you own the property as joint tenants: 12 months after the last of you dies, if you own the property as tenants in common: 12 months after anyone of you die, or when one of the other events set out in the contract occurs.
What fees and interest are charged on a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan?
You will be charged interest on the loan amount you borrow. Simple interest will accrue monthly on the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan. You will usually not be required to pay any of this interest until the loan ends unless the loan to value ratio of the loan exceeds 100%. The interest rate is also variable so could increase over the life of the loan.
A Midkey Deferral Fee will also be charged at the end of the loan or if an early partial repayment is made. The Midkey Deferral Fee is based on any increase in the value of the property between when the loan was entered into and when it ends.
For example, if you take out a Midkey loan of $200,000, the effect of the interest and Midkey Deferral Fee means that after 10 years you will owe $420,783. This example is based on a rate of 7.1% pa, 3%pa property price appreciation and no repayments and includes the initial 5% valuation discount.

How much equity will I have left after my Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan is repaid?

The amount of equity you have left in your home after repaying your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan will depend on how much money you borrow, the interest rate and how long you have the loan, and the value of your home.

To understand how a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan works, let's say that the value of the secured property is $1,000,000 and you take out a $200,000 loan leaving you $800,000 in equity.

What if the value of your home stays the same?

Over 20 years, your Midkey debt will grow from $200,000 to $494,000. If the value of the home stays the same, your remaining equity will be $506,000 (assuming the Midkey interest rate is 7.1%), (see Graph 1, below)

What if the value of your home goes up?

If the value of your home goes up at the rate of 3% per year, after 20 years, your home will be worth $1,806,111. You will owe $655,222 on your Midkey loan, and your equity will be $1,150,889 (assuming the Midkey interest rate is 7.1%), (see Graph 2, below).

Unlock Your Busy Mid Life

A MIDKEY NO MONTHLY PAYMENTS LOAN MAY NOT BE SUITABLE FOR EVERYONE. WHAT ARE THE ISSUES TO CONSIDER IN DECIDING IF IT IS RIGHT FOR YOU?

This information statement is a requirement under ASIC instrument 23-0033

How will the loan affect your future choices?	When thinking about a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan, you need to consider both your current and future needs. The more you borrow now, and the younger you are when you borrow it, the less equity you will have in your home to pay for your needs as you age. How might your health and living situation have changed in 10, 20 or 30 years' time? If you use up too much of your equity too soon, you may not be able to afford future costs such as high medical expenses, the need to move into aged care accommodation, essential home maintenance or the purchase of a motor vehicle.
How much will you have to repay?	You can only estimate how much you will end up owing under the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan. The exact amount to repay will depend on how much you borrow, the interest rate, how long you have the loan, and the value of the home at the time of repayment. Before you decide to sign up for a reverse mortgage, (this includes the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan): i) discuss your assumption about interest rates and the growth in your home value with your lender, and ii) use the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan calculator on our website to test different scenarios and see how they effect the equity in your home. Please note, the reverse mortgage calculator on the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Moneysmart website (moneysmart.gov.au) uses compound interest so will not show an accurate projection for the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan which uses simple interest.

At the end of the loan will you owe more than what your home is worth?	When your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan ends and you must repay the loan, if your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan is secured by a first ranking mortgage you will not have to pay back more than the value of your home. This is known as a no negative equity guarantee. If your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan is secured by a second mortgage, you will not have to pay Midkey more than the value of your home less the amount secured by your first mortgage. The no negative equity guarantee provided under the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan does not apply to any other debt secured by your property unless expressly stated by that lender.
Will other people living in your home be affected?	Generally, the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan must be repaid when you sell, enter an aged care facility, or die. If there is someone else is living with you who is not a Midkey borrower, the other resident will have to move out when the loan has to be repaid. If you have concerns about this make sure you discuss this with your lender before entering into the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan.
Will you be able to leave your children an inheritance?	A Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan will reduce the amount of equity in your home you can leave to your children or other beneficiaries. You may wish to discuss this with your family.
Are there alternatives more appropriate for you?	There may be alternatives to taking out a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan or other reverse mortgages that may be more suitable for your needs. These can include taking out a standard loan, downsizing, making arrangements with other family members, accessing government benefits, loans (such as the pension loans scheme), using savings or selling other assets or home reversion schemes.
Will you incur costs for repaying the loan early?	If you make a partial payment early, the Midkey Deferral Fee will be applied on a pro-rata basis based on the property value at the date of the partial payment. A new independent property valuation is required for each repayment, arranged at your expense. A valuation fee ranges from $330 - $3,850 and a $200 partial repayment fee applies each time.
Will your pension change	A Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan may affect your pension or other Government entitlements. You can contact the Department of Human Services (Centrelink) to talk to a Financial Information Service Officer about your pension may be affected. You can contact them by referring to this website www.servicesaustralia.gov.au/contact-us Before you take out a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan you should discuss the possible impact with Centrelink. If you do take out a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan, you need to contact Centrelink and let them know.
Are you currently receiving money from the Home Equity Access Scheme?	You may be ineligible for the scheme if you take out a reverse mortgage, including the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan. Check your eligibility on the Services Australia website.

YOUR LONG-TERM AND FUTURE NEEDS AND OBJECTIVES

When considering a Midkey “No Monthly Payments” Loan, you should think carefully about your long-term and future needs and objectives.

You should consider the following 3 important questions before getting a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan:

1. What will be the impact of your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan on your ability to pay any future costs? These long-term costs could include (where relevant) any costs associated with aging (e.g. the cost of aged care accommodation or in-home care services) or medical expenses.
2. Will a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan impact your eligibility to receive any pension or other Centrelink payments?
3. Do you want to leave equity in your property to your estate?

All the above questions are important ones, would you like to discuss them with us? We'd like to discuss them with you. Please call Midkey at 1300 MIDKEY. We'd also recommend you read the additional information below.

What long-term and future needs and objectives should you consider before getting a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan?

- Aged care accommodation: Your possible need for aged care accommodation. You may need to move into a long-term care facility as you age. If you need to move into an aged care facility, you must repay your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan in full. You may need to sell your property to repay your Midkey loan, and/or fund your aged care expenses.
- Aged care needs: Your medical costs, health expenses, and aged care needs. As you age, you may incur more medical costs and health expenses. You may also need in-home care services or long-term care. Ensuring that you have enough money to cover these expenses is vital.
- Your estate: Whether you want to leave equity in your property to your estate. Do you want to leave equity in your home to the beneficiaries in your will? If so, you will need to think carefully about the size of your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan. You should also carefully consider the property equity projections we provide to you and make sure those projections are acceptable to you. Remember, if you have a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan, you will not be able to pass on the full equity in your home to your heirs.
- Centrelink payments: Your eligibility for a pension or other Centrelink payments. Taking out a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan could affect your eligibility for a pension or other Centrelink payments. We'd recommend you talk with Centrelink or your financial adviser about how a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan could affect your Centrelink payments.
- No tenancy protection provision: A Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan doesn't contain a tenancy protection provision. This means that if your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan needs to be repaid from the sale of your property, other people living in your property who are not borrowers (including your spouse, partner, other family members, or tenants) will need to move out and live elsewhere. Also, if you need to move into aged care accommodation, you must repay your Midkey loan in full. You may need to sell your property to repay your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan, and/or fund your aged care expenses. This would impact other people's ability to continue living in your property.
- Your aspirations: What are your plans for the future? Are you planning to start a business, renovate your home, pay private school fees, or help your child with a deposit for their first home? You should think about your hopes and dreams for your life, as well as your financial goals.

NO TENANCY PROTECTION

(This disclosure is a requirement under ASIC instrument 23-0033)

The rights of any spouse, partner or other resident in your home will be affected by the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan.

IMPORTANT

THIS NOTICE INFORMS YOU HOW THIS MIDKEY NO MONTHLY PAYMENTS LOAN WILL AFFECT THE RIGHTS OF OTHER PEOPLE LIVING IN YOUR HOME.

When your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan needs to be repaid (for example, if the house is to be sold or the borrower dies or moves to aged care), if another person (including a spouse, partner or another family member) is living in your house, THEY WILL HAVE TO MOVE OUT SO YOUR HOUSE CAN BE SOLD.

BEFORE YOU SIGN A CONTRACT FOR A MIDKEY NO MONTHLY PAYMENTS LOAN, you should carefully consider whether you want other people to continue living in the house, even if, for example, you move into aged care accommodation. To help you, you may wish to obtain independent legal advice.

If it is important to you that other people who live with you continue to have the right to remain in your home, then you should consider other options apart from the Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan that provides rights to other residents.

NO TENANCY PROTECTION – MORE INFORMATION

When considering a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan, you should think carefully about the needs of the people living in your home.

You should consider the following 5 important questions before getting a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan:

1. Did you know that a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan does not contain a tenancy protection provision and will affect the rights of other people living in your property?
2. Are you aware that other people living in your property who are not borrowers (including your spouse, partner, other family members, or tenants) will need to move out and live somewhere else if your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan needs to be repaid from the sale of your property?
3. Have you considered that if you need to move into an aged care facility, you must repay your Midkey No Monthly Payments in full? You may need to sell your property to repay your Midkey loan, and/or fund your aged care expenses. If you sell your property, this may impact the ability of other people to continue living in your property.
4. Do you want to obtain independent legal or financial advice about the above questions? We recommend that you do this.
5. Have you considered discussing your Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan application with your family members, beneficiaries, tenants, or other people living in your property who may be impacted by your decision to take out a Midkey No Monthly Payments Loan? We recommend that you do this too.
