Postmaster General Welcome

Dear National Postal Forum Attendees,

Welcome to this year's NPF in Phoenix, Arizona—a city that represents resilience, growth, and transformation. Much like the Postal Service today, Phoenix thrives in an environment that demands adaptability and forward-thinking. It is a place where tradition meets innovation, where challenges are met with determination, and where bold ideas take root and flourish. These qualities mirror the journey of the United States Postal Service as we continue to evolve to meet the needs of a rapidly changing nation.

Over the past year, the Postal Service has made significant strides in strengthening our operational performance, enhancing service reliability, and modernizing our network. Through ongoing investments in infrastructure, transportation, and technology, we are building a more efficient and integrated delivery system. Our efforts to streamline processing, optimize delivery routes, and expand package capabilities have positioned the Postal Service to better serve both our mailing and shipping customers.

The NPF is a vital opportunity for all of us to come together to share insights, collaborate on solutions, and shape the future of the mailing and shipping industry. This year's General Session and USPS Leadership Insight Sessions will highlight the progress we've made, outline the path ahead, and feature discussions on innovation, customer experience, and the evolving role of the Postal Service in American commerce and communication. With 120 workshops focused on professional development, cutting-edge Direct Mail tactics, as well as new and evolving shipping products and services, education remains a key focus. In addition, our industry partners will join us to share perspectives on market disruption and the forces shaping the future of the industry.

As you plan your time here over the next several days, please make time to visit the Exhibit Hall. We have many new exhibitors at the Forum, and we are glad to have them join the best mailing and shipping conference and trade show in the industry.

I encourage each of you to engage fully in the sessions, connect with peers and partners, and explore new ideas that will help drive our industry forward. Together, we are building a stronger, more agile Postal Service that continues to serve the American people every day!

Thank you for your partnership and your commitment to innovation.

Have a great Forum, everyone.

Sincerely,

NPF Board of Directors Welcome

Greetings Forum Attendees,

Welcome to Phoenix and the 2026 National Postal Forum. Each year, this event brings together professionals who are not only part of the mailing and shipping industry—but actively shaping its future. We're pleased to have you here as part of that collective effort.

NPF exists to provide clarity in a complex environment. Over the next four days, you'll engage with USPS leadership and industry experts, explore emerging ideas, and gain practical insight designed to strengthen how you operate, plan, and lead. Whether your focus is strategy, operations, or innovation, the Forum is built to support real progress across every level of your organization.

This year's program reflects that commitment. In addition to more than 120+ workshops and sessions, you'll find new opportunities to expand your perspective—including the introduction of NPF Vignettes, offering concise, focused sessions, and the new Empowered Leadership Certification, designed to support professional growth and organizational impact. The Exhibit Hall continues to grow as well, with 200+ vendors showcasing solutions and technologies that are shaping what's next.

General Sessions will offer important context from USPS leadership and industry voices, helping to frame priorities and direction. Throughout the week, you'll also find opportunities to connect, exchange ideas, and build relationships with peers who understand both the challenges and the opportunities ahead.

We encourage you to take full advantage of everything NPF has to offer—and to make this experience your own.

Thank you for being here. We look forward to connecting with you throughout the Forum.

Sincerely,

NPF Board of Directors

Key Events and Features to Shape Your NPF Experience

Over the next four days, engage with a dynamic lineup of educational workshops, exclusive sessions, industry exhibits, and direct access to USPS and industry leaders. Whether you're looking to strengthen your expertise, explore emerging innovations, or expand your professional network, NPF offers the insight, connections, and real-world solutions that help you navigate complexity and turn opportunity into action.

Kickstart Your NPF Journey: Orientation Session

Sunday, 1:30 PM - 2:30 PM | 221 AB

New to the National Postal Forum—or returning after some time away? This orientation session helps you start with clarity and purpose. Get an overview of the workshops, learning tracks, and key events that define the week, along with guidance on where to find the most valuable networking opportunities. You'll also gain practical tips for navigating the venue, using the NPF app, and managing your schedule effectively. Most importantly, you'll learn how to align your time at NPF with your professional goals—so you can make the most of every session, every connection, and every opportunity.

- As part of NPF's commitment to building meaningful connections, first-time attendees will be identified with a blue dot on their name badge—an easy way for returning participants to offer a warm welcome and share their experience. If you need assistance at any point, look for individuals wearing a STAFF ribbon or NPF badge—we're here to help you navigate the Forum with confidence and make the most of your time.

Monday General Session

Monday, 8:00 AM - 9:30 AM | North Ballroom

Join America's 76th Postmaster General, David Steiner, as he kicks-off the 2026 National Postal Forum with an engaging address on the powerful legacy the Postal Service shares with its customers and the American public, and the strategies now shaping its future. The shipping, mailing and marketing industries are increasingly dynamic, with change a constant imperative for the Postal Service and American commerce. Against this backdrop, the fruits of Postal Service modernization, infrastructure investments, and product developments are speeding the pace of change, improving service, delivering ever greater value, and positioning America's postal value chain for innovation like never before. This important keynote will illuminate vital topics on the trajectory and shared future of our industry and your United States Postal Service.

Tuesday General Session

Tuesday, 8:00 AM - 9:00 AM | North Ballroom

Join us for a high-energy keynote with Jeremy Gutsche, New York Times bestselling author and CEO of TrendHunter.com—one of the world's most sought-after innovation experts. Trusted by global brands, CEOs, and organizations navigating rapid change, Jeremy delivers powerful insights on how to rethink strategy, strengthen leadership, and build a culture of innovation that performs under pressure. Through a dynamic blend of emerging trends and proven frameworks, you'll gain practical tools to unlock creativity, accelerate ideas, and adapt with confidence in an evolving business landscape.

AIM Session

Tuesday, 11:00 AM - 12:00 PM | West Ballroom

Join Senior USPS executives and industry leaders for a high-impact panel discussion on the challenges and opportunities shaping today's mailing industry. The session opens with insights from Steve Monteith USPS Chief Customer and Marketing Officer and Executive Vice President, followed by a dynamic panel moderated by Marc McCrery, USPS Vice President of Customer Experience. Hear directly from the USPS and industry partners on how collaboration is key to building a strong profitable future for postal products. This interactive session includes time for audience questions, meaningful connections, and fresh perspectives you can take back to your organization. Insightful. Interactive. Inspiring. This is the one AIM session you won't want to miss.

How a Stamp Becomes a Stamp

Monday: 2-2:30 PM

Go behind the scenes of U.S. stamp creation—from initial concept to first-day issue. Learn how artistic vision, technical precision, and collaboration come together to transform an idea into an official USPS postage stamp.

Lisa Bobb-Semple, Director of Stamp Services, USPS
Greg Breeding, Founder & Creative Director, Journey Group
Graham Beck, Creator & Host, Exploring Stamps

Legacy in Print

Monday: 3-3:30 PM

Two industry professionals share how they transformed experience into published work. Through personal reflection and guided discussion, explore the process of capturing ideas, sharing perspective, and creating lasting impact—while considering how your own voice can contribute to the industry.

Mike Gunderson, President, Gundir/CEO, PostReminder
Mike Porter, President, Print/Mail Consultants
Brian Stacey, CEO, Decision Science

Through a Collector's Eyes

Tuesday: 10:30-11:00 AM

See mail through a new lens as lifelong collectors share how stamps reveal stories, history, and design in unexpected ways. Learn how curiosity transforms everyday mail into moments of discovery and connection.

Jay Bigalke, President & CEO, Scott Stamp, LLC

Bridging the Gap: Using Natural Language for Data Exploration

Tuesday: 1-1:30 PM

The greatest barrier to progress isn't a lack of data—it's the technical wall between that data and the people who need it. Traditional analysis has long been a 'translation' problem, where insights are trapped behind complex structures. We are now entering an era of semantic interaction, where the machine doesn't just store information; it understands your world. By tailoring intelligence to the specific vernacular of an agency, we transform data from a static repository into a conversational partner—one that maps localized logic to global trends in real-time.

Luke Bibro, Lead Solutions Architect, Databricks

The History of AI

Tuesday: 11:30-12 PM

Explore the evolution of artificial intelligence—from early pattern recognition to today's generative capabilities. This session offers a clear, engaging look at how AI developed, how it differs across models, and what that evolution means for the technologies shaping our world.

Brian Stacey, CEO, Decision Science

Postcards Without Borders

Tuesday: 3-3:30 PM

Explore how postcards continue to connect people across cultures and continents. Through the lens of global exchange, discover the renewed role of personal mail—and gain inspiration for keeping handwritten communication alive in a digital world.

Graham Beck, Creator & Host, Exploring Stamps

Lisa Bobb-Semple, Director of Stamp Services, USPS

Jay Bigalke, President & CEO, Scott Stamp, LLC

Hidden Surprises & Stories Behind the Scenes

Wednesday: 10-10:30 AM

Every stamp has a story—and some have secrets. Discover unexpected design details, little-known historical moments, and behind-the-scenes anecdotes that reveal the fascinating world of stamps, including special insights shared exclusively with attendees.

Lisa Bobb-Semple, Director of Stamp Services, USPS

Greg Breeding, Founder & Creative Director, Journey Group

Claudia Daniels, Manager Stamp Development, USPS

Forging Knowledge. Shaping What's Next.

At NPF, education is designed to do more than inform—it's built to help you navigate complexity, strengthen performance, and turn insight into action. Through 120+ expert-led workshops and sessions, you'll gain direct access to USPS leadership and industry experts delivering practical strategies, emerging perspectives, and real-world solutions.

Across five specialized tracks, NPF brings focus to the areas that matter most—operations, data and technology, shipping innovation, mail growth, and leadership. Each track offers a curated set of sessions designed to help you sharpen your approach, uncover new opportunities, and apply what you learn with confidence.

Direct Mail Reimagined

Explore how today's direct mail is evolving through smarter strategy, creative execution, and seamless integration with digital channels.

Empowered Leadership

Develop the skills and mindset needed to lead with clarity, confidence, and purpose in a changing environment.

Mastering Mail Operations

Sharpen your operational expertise with proven approaches to improve accuracy, efficiency, and compliance across your mail processes.

Shipping Innovation & Insights

Stay ahead of the latest trends shaping shipping strategy, pricing, and logistics.

Tech-Driven Data Advantages

Unlock the power of data, analytics, and emerging technologies to drive smarter decisions and stronger outcomes.

This is where ideas take shape and expertise is put into motion—equipping you to lead with clarity, adapt with purpose, and contribute to what's next across the mailing and shipping industry.

Daily Activities

Sunday, May 3 | Periods 1-3

Educational Workshops Period 1

Kickstart Your NPF Journey: Orientation Session

Sunday, 1:30 PM – 2:30 PM | 221 AB

New to the National Postal Forum—or returning after some time away? This orientation session helps you start with clarity and purpose. Get an overview of the workshops, learning tracks, and key events that define the week, along with guidance on where to find the most valuable networking opportunities. You'll also gain practical tips for navigating the venue, using the NPF app, and managing your schedule effectively. Most importantly, you'll learn how to align your time at NPF with your professional goals—so you can make the most of every session, every connection, and every opportunity.

Delivering Intelligence: USPS Data as the Backbone of AI Marketing Agents

Sunday, 1:30 PM – 2:30 PM | 225 B

This workshop explores how USPS Geospatial products—such as Occupancy Trends, Population Mobility, PO Box Data, Zip Code Boundaries, and Infrastructure Data—can serve as foundational fuel for agentic AI marketing systems. Attendees will discover how USPS data enables AI agents to: Pinpoint high-opportunity regions using real-time occupancy and mobility signals. Adapt campaigns dynamically based on population shifts and infrastructure access. Personalize outreach with hyper-local precision using ZIP-level segmentation. Automate decision-making across targeting, budgeting, and content delivery. In addition, through real-world use cases and implementation strategies, marketers will learn how USPS geospatial intelligence can work with AI workflows to unlock smarter, faster, and more autonomous marketing outcomes.

Eddie Alvarran, Manager Customer Marketing (Mail), USPS
Earl Johnson, Dir. Addressing & Retail Technology Services, USPS
Jon Taylor, Global Chief Data Officer, MRM

Digital Twins & Agentic AI: The Future of Intelligent Operations

Sunday, 1:30 PM – 2:30 PM | 222 AB

See your network come alive. Explore how USPS is fusing Agentic AI with Digital Twin technology to turn massive data streams into real-time, self-optimizing operations. Through live demos, discover how predictive modeling transforms logistics, transportation, and decision-making—today and tomorrow.

Martha Forrest, Manager Reporting & Dashboards, USPS
Arslan Saleem, Director Corporate Performance Reporting & Analytics, USPS

MTAC, What's New and How to Get Involved

Sunday, 1:30 PM – 2:30 PM | 224 B

It's an exciting time for the Postmaster General's Mailers Technical Advisory Committee (MTAC) - changes were made to the meeting format and focus areas in 2025. Come and hear about the structure and format changes and find out how you can take part in the technical conversations happening at the quarterly meetings! MTAC also has various Work Groups, User Groups and Task Teams working with USPS on the systems and products mailers and shippers use. Learn about which ones impact your business and how you can sign up to participate.

Deborah Damore, Head of Postal Affairs, GrayHair Software, LLC
Glen Swyers, Director of Marketing Integration, Imagine

Priming the Mailbox

Sunday, 1:30 PM – 2:30 PM | 224A

USPS Promotions are often viewed as a valuable program in lowering postage costs. However, mailers who are doing the bare minimum for promotion eligibility may be missing out on opportunities to increase the value of their mail campaigns. In this workshop, we will discuss the benefit of leveraging USPS Promotions as a way to test new design concepts, utilize different technologies, and engage with actionable data. USPS Promotions can be more than just a savings tool—it should also encourage mailers to think outside the box to improve engagement and response.

Nick Lethert, Postal Affairs Support Manager, IWCO

Bob Rosser, Director, Postal Affairs, Products and Services, IWCO

Promotion Benefits You Don't Think About

Sunday, 1:30 PM – 2:30 PM | 221 C

USPS Promotions are often viewed as a valuable program in lowering postage costs. ## Clean Data, Clear Results

Sunday, 2:45 PM – 3:45 PM | 224 B

Compliance by Design: Ensuring Data Accuracy and Mail Integrity
In regulated industries, one mis-mailed piece can trigger compliance issues and brand risk. This workshop covers the essentials of data hygiene and mail integrity—address validation, QA automation, and USPS feedback loops that reduce undeliverable-as-addressed (UAA) mail and rework. Learn how to build clean, compliant workflows that protect customers, strengthen trust, and boost operational efficiency—all while improving accuracy and profitability.

Sean Hoffman, Manager of Professional Services, BCC Software

Paula Stoskopf, Director Postal Affairs, Japs-Olson

Driving the Future of Ground Transportation

Sunday, 2:45 PM – 3:45 PM | 221 AB

The U.S. trucking industry is the backbone of commerce and logistics—moving over 70% of the nation's freight and connecting businesses, communities, and consumers every day. This workshop will explore the forces reshaping ground transportation, from technology and workforce trends to evolving customer expectations and sustainability goals. Join a panel of experienced transportation leaders for an inside look at how fleets of all sizes are adapting to industry changes. Learn how innovation, data, and workforce strategies are redefining safety, reliability, and operational excellence—and what the next five years may hold for commercial carriers and their partners.

Matthew Ritter, Interim Executive Dir., National Star Route Mail Contractors Association

How Seamless and IV Work Together

Sunday, 2:45 PM – 3:45 PM | 223

Seamless Acceptance is the USPS tool that commercial mailers use to present mailings. There are great benefits – improved workflow, easier mail induction, and a postage discount – but there are also challenges. Undocumented mail is a worry among many mailers, and Seamless may not confirm that all the mail was mailed. Using Informed Visibility with it can help you take advantage of Seamless, while mitigating the challenges. Use IV with Seamless to document mail dates for your customers, investigate undocumented assessments, and keep better control of your mail induction process. Of course, this is in addition to other benefits of mail tracking you already enjoy. This workshop will provide specific examples and processes you can use to make your mailing operations better today. Workshop qualifies to earn a Mail Center Manager Certification Certificate.

David Lewis, President, SnailWorks, LLC

Remote Leadership and Management

Sunday, 2:45 PM – 3:45 PM | 224 A

The 21st century workplace has moved out of the office and into cyberspace. Roughly 33% of the American workforce works remotely or in hybrid arrangements. Despite growing RTO trends, many workers do not want to come back to the office full time, and many companies do not plan to call them back. This workshop will explore the challenges to leading and managing remote teams, and in building from lessons learned over the past two NPF workshops, will introduce tools, methods and practices to help empower remote leaders to manage their remote teams and drive improvement and excellence from afar. Workshop qualifies to earn an Empowered Leadership Certification Certificate.

Zachary Bowden, Dir., Postal Logistics and Data Processing, Direct Marketing Solutions

The Predictive Path for Direct Mail

Sunday, 2:45 PM – 3:45 PM | 221 C

Direct mail is entering a new era—one where data doesn't just inform strategy, it predicts success. Join data experts as they explore how predictive modeling and cognitive psychology are driving creative diversification, channel optimization, and measurable ROI. You'll see how blending the what (transactional and deterministic data) with the why (cognitive science and motivations) helps marketers test smarter, spend smarter, and design mail that connects more meaningfully with every audience. Get a first look at the future of mail optimization, powered by data that anticipates success and inspires a new era of predictive performance marketing. Workshop qualifies to earn a Direct Mail Marketing Certification Certificate.

Walter Christoni, Senior Vice President, Sales, Alliant
Rene Hamill, Vice President, Client Engagement, Alliant
Zach Hudson, Vice President, Solutions Architecture, Alliant
Matthew Whipple, President, Whipple Direct Mail

USPS Returns

Sunday, 2:45 PM – 3:45 PM | 225 B

Learn how USPS can enhance your returns process by leveraging our technology, processing facilities, transportation and delivery network. Learn about the latest enhancements to our return solutions.

Angela Dyer, Sr. Dir. Commerce Applications, USPS
Treishawna Harris, Mgr. Shipping & Commerce Technology Applications, USPS
Matthew Petrosky, Software Architect III, USPS

Educational Workshops Period 3

Plug. Play, Deliver: Customer-Driven Innovation on the USPS Platform

USPS Leadership Insight Session

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | West Balroom

As shipping technology becomes deeply embedded within customer platforms, seamless integration, operational efficiency, and intelligent automation have become critical differentiators. In this USPS CIO-led session, you will learn how customers have integrated USPS technology — and increasingly, AI-enabled capabilities — into their systems to simplify shipping, scale operations, and deliver measurable business value. The session will explore how modern APIs, data platforms, and AI-driven insights streamline workflows, reduce friction, and unlock operational efficiencies through tighter system integration. It will also look ahead to emerging capabilities and upcoming platform enhancements that will enable customers to innovate faster, adapt more easily, and grow with confidence—positioning USPS as a flexible, future-ready partner in an evolving delivery ecosystem.

Pritha Mehra, Chief Information Officer, USPS
Angela Lawson, Vice President, Technology Applications, USPS

C-Suite Ready: Elevate Your Presence 🏆

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | 222 C

Ambition in the supply chain means being ready to lead at the highest level. You may have the data, the expertise, and the strategy, but without the appropriate command and presence, your proposals will fail to land with the necessary authority. This intentional workshop is dedicated to closing the gap between functional expertise and executive influence. We provide a believable, decisive playbook for transforming your professional presence to be C-Suite ready. Learn how to project authentic authority, structure presentations to drive strategic action, and engage senior leaders effectively. Stop watching your strategic initiatives stall; start leveraging your elevated presence to champion the bold horizons your organization is aiming for.

Workshop qualifies to earn an Empowered Leadership Certification Certificate.

Vanessa Zamy, President & CEO, LiberationX Contracts

Delivering the USPS Mission Through Commercial Products & Services 📈

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | 224 A

The Commercial Products and Services (CP&S) Portfolio plays a critical role in enabling the USPS's ability to deliver on its universal service obligation and advance the Postal Service's Transformation plan. Learn how sourcing teams contract for professional and consulting services, employee and operational support needs, and retail customer products and fulfillment nationwide. This workshop will offer an overview of the CP&S Portfolio and how these services support the Postal Service's mission. Attendees will gain insight into current and upcoming procurement initiatives along with supplier expectations related to performance, collaboration, and innovation. The workshop will also highlight how CP&S partners with suppliers to advance USPS sustainability objectives and deliver measurable mission outcomes. Workshop qualifies to earn a Mail Center Manager Certification Certificate.

Bridget Rice, Sr. Dir. Commercial Products & Services Portfolio, USPS

From Data to Decisions: Unlocking Business Value

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | 229 A

Mail matters - and data unlocks its full potential. The Informed Visibility® Mail Tracking & Reporting (IV-MTR) platform—which includes barcode scan data, Informed Delivery® campaign data, postage data, and more—provides a powerful ecosystem of mail intelligence that goes far beyond basic tracking. This joint session brings together USPS technology leadership and industry innovators to demonstrate how mailers and service providers transform data from IV-MTR into actionable business results. Explore real-world use cases across financial services, healthcare, retail, and utilities showing how organizations drive operational efficiency, enhance customer engagement, and enable data-driven decision making. Learn proven strategies from USPS experts and leading technology providers for extracting maximum value from the entire IV-MTR platform. Attendees gain practical frameworks for turning foundational data elements into measurable business outcomes. Workshop qualifies to earn a Mail Center Manager Certification Certificate.

Charissa “Karen: Hill, Sr. Mail & Package Information Systems Specialist, USPS

Everette L Mills, VP of Product Management, Grayhair Software

John Whittington, Sr. Dir. Client Services & Postal, Intelisent Analytics Platform

How Packages Moves Through the Network

Sunday, 4:00 PM– 5:00 PM | 222 AB

Learn how a package moves through the new USPS processing and transportation network. Hear about new technologies used to sort packages, transportation and network strategies to move packages more efficiently, and initiatives to keep improving our performance.

Steve Hagenstein, Executive Dir. Logistics Modeling & Planning, USPS

Jim Herrmann, Sr. Dir. Network Transformation, USPS

Bradley McCullough Jr, Sr. Dir. Technology Development & Application, USPS

Gregory White, Executive Dir. Operations Integrations & Performance Excellence, USPS

Mail Paper Trees and the Environment

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | 223

Two Sides North America's major research project, the Trend Tracker survey, has revealed several key insights into people's perceptions of print, paper, and the environment. Conducted every two years, this significant research survey asks over 12,000 consumers worldwide about their attitudes toward print, paper-based products, and the environment. In this workshop, we will focus on the latest results, trends, and generational shifts, reviewing the facts to debunk the myths and stop anti-print and paper Greenwashing. Environmental perceptions of paper, print, direct mail, and fiber-based products and their life cycle, and preferences for printed or digital communications, including statements, marketing communications, catalogs, and more.

Jules VanSant, Executive Director, Two Sides North America

Jill Crossley, Director of Operations, Two Sides North America

Are You Ready to Make the Quantum Leap?

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | 224 B

Explore the revolutionary impact of emerging quantum computing and sensing technologies on the package shipping industry. Quantum advancements promise unprecedented computational power and precision, posing the possibility of optimizing complex logistics, improving route efficiency, and enhancing real-time package tracking with unmatched accuracy. We'll discuss how these transformative technologies enable companies to solve age-old problems in ways previously deemed impossible, from minimizing delivery times to reducing costs and ensuring higher security in parcel handling. Join us to discover how the shipping industry is poised to make a quantum leap into the future!

Michael Tait, General Dynamics Info Tech

Melissa Toppee, General Dynamics Info Tech 0.1875

Modernizing Postal Facilities

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | 221 AB

As the nation's mail and shipping systems evolve, postal facilities must adapt to meet modern operational and sustainability goals. This workshop explores how design strategies can modernize aging buildings while preserving their architectural character. Muhlenberg Greene Architects, holding an open-ended design professional services contract with USPS since 2007, shares lessons from their award-winning West Chester Historic Post Office project and the Easton, PA, facility modernization. Attendees will learn how to balance preservation, performance, and cost-effectiveness to create facilities ready for the future of mail and package delivery.

Jim Sarro, Principal, Muhlenberg Greene Architects

The Mail Moment—Circa 2026

Sunday, 4:00 PM – 5:00 PM | 221 C

The mail moment used to be the reaction to reaching into your physical mailbox and being delighted by a letter, a catalog, a magazine, or a surprise package. Today, the mail moment is part of an omnichannel experience, but delight is still the outcome when the mail channel is maximized for impact.

Dr. Stephen Aguas, Director, Neuro-Fundraising Lab, Moore
Debora Haskel, VP Development, Moore

Educational Workshops Period 4

Boot Camp for Mail Center Managers Part 1

Monday, 11:00 AM – 12:00 PM | 221 AB

In today's mail center environment, managers face daunting challenges – multiple areas of responsibility, disruptive technologies, a new PMG and possible changes to the Delivering for America plan, changes in the USPS operations and regulations. The talents and skills that got you to where you are today may not be enough to bring you to the next level. Attend this two-part workshop and hear from leading speakers in the industry. Workshop qualifies to earn a Mail Center Manager Certification Certificate.

Patrick Ring, Director Mail Services, Boston University
Steve Smith, Base 60 Consulting

Delivering Performance in the Era of AI

Monday, 11:00 AM – 12:00 PM | 221 C

Brands in the U.S. will spend nearly $40 billion this year to support their direct mail efforts. But with new technology threatening to disrupt long-established approaches to planning and executing marketing programs, how is the channel's role likely to evolve in the future? How should brands be leveraging technology to orchestrate an ideal role for direct mail in a diverse media mix? And how are innovations in data and technology opening new doors for mail service providers—through audience segmentation, content development, workflow optimization and other use cases—to expand their role as true omnichannel partners? Winterberry Group's Jonathan Margulies will address those questions and others while he reviews findings from the firm's annual Delivering Performance research.

Jonathan Margulies, Managing Partner, Winterberry Group

How Public Policy Affects Your Business 🏆

Monday, 11:00 AM – 12:00 PM | 222 AB

The Postal Service is the hub of America's $1.6 trillion mailing industry that employs 7.3 million workers. Millions of businesses rely on it. That makes pending postal legislation and Congressional oversight important for mailers, shippers, and USPS contractors as well as their employees across America. This workshop will highlight pending postal reform proposals in the U.S. Congress (including legislation to improve the investment of USPS pension funds) and explore ways mailing industry leaders can interact with their Members of Congress as well as postal industry advocates in Washington to strengthen the USPS and improve the business outlook of the entire mailing industry. Workshop qualifies to earn an Empowered Leadership Certification Certificate.

Cheryl Chapman, Product Manager of Bristol & Envelope Papers, Sylvamo

Marie Clarke, President, EMA Foundation for Paper-Based Communications

James Sauber, NPF Board Director, NALC/E Street Consulting

Michael Scanlon, Partner, K&L Gates

I Need a New Banana... 📈

Monday, 11:00 AM – 12:00 PM | 229 AB

That was a quote from one of our presenters...if you too need a "new banana" or new mailing solution, then you won't want to miss this workshop on the value of "co-solutions" such as comail, commingle, copal and more! The successful use of Co-Solutions is making mail more efficient, reducing the USPS' costs, and bringing customers postage savings and benefits that facilitate mail growth. Hear from the industry experts on how your business can use co-solutions so you can focus more on your core business and leave the headaches to the experts. Learn what's new in the Co-Solutions world—you may be surprised at what you discover...and you may decide that you, too, need a new banana! Workshop qualifies to earn a Mail Center Manager Certification Certificate.

How Traits can Undermine your Career

Wednesday, 2:00 PM – 3:00 PM | 222 AB

In this workshop, we delve into how personality traits, unrecognized blind spots, ingrained habits and personal weaknesses can subtly sabotage your career progression. While qualities like confidence and diligence are often celebrated, when taken to extremes or unchecked, they can lead to overconfidence, burnout and strained relationships. Blind spots, areas where we lack self-confidence, can cause us to misinterpret situations, leading to poor decision-making and missed opportunities. Additionally, habits, such as procrastination, resistance to feedback and avoidance of difficult conversation can erode trust and hinder professional growth. Recognizing and addressing these factors is crucial for fostering a positive work environment and achieving long-term career success. Workshop qualifies to earn an Empowered Leadership Certification Certificate.

Dr. Sean Joyce, President, Omega Consultants
