I am

a tangerine lover, plant-based foodie, design enthusiast, and endlessly curious adventurer. I love discovering new perspectives, exploring different cultures, and connecting with inspiring people around the world.

Whether it's kickboxing, skiing, or yoga, I'm always up for trying something new. And when I'm not chasing experiences, I'm probably organizing closets into beautifully curated spaces. Alongside my creative side, in my free time I work as a hospice end-of-life companion – random, I know.
