Welcome to Camp Meeting

Welcome to Camp Meeting 2026!

Our theme this year, “Faithful in the Journey,” is an invitation to honest reflection. Faith is rarely a straight road. It winds through seasons of doubt and seasons of clarity, through loss and renewal, through questions and quiet confidence. What holds us together through all of it is not our own strength, but a God who is faithful when we are not.

Camp Meeting has always been a place where that kind of honesty is welcome. We gather not because we have it all figured out, but because we need each other and we need God. As we worship, learn, and fellowship together, we pray that you will find encouragement for wherever you are in your journey right now.

May this time together remind you that you are not walking alone. May it renew your resolve, restore what has grown weary, and send you home with a deeper confidence in the God who has been faithful every step of the way. We are so glad you are here.

With heartfelt blessings,

Ron Carlson, president

This Year's Speakers

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY EVENING

Roger Hernandez

Southern Union Conference

Roger Hernandez is a pastor, author, and speaker who has spent more than 30 years in ministry as Ministerial and Evangelism Director for the Southern Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. Born in Cuba and fully bilingual, he has spoken all over the world in both English and Spanish, connecting with audiences of every generation through messages that are clear, practical, and motivating. A prolific writer with more than 34 books to his name — including two Sharing Books of the Year and the Discipleship Book of the Year — Roger's newest release is Graceful Parenting (2025). He and his wife Kathy have four adult children and five grandchildren.

Join him Wednesday evening for "Let's Get Personal" and Thursday evening for "The Cost of Success."

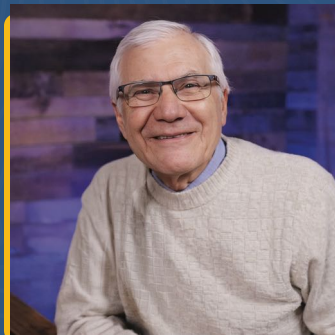

FRIDAY EVENING & SABBATH

Joseph Kidder

Andrews University

Dr. S. Joseph Kidder carries a story unlike almost anyone you'll ever meet. Born in Nineveh, Iraq, he came to faith as a young man in a small Adventist church — a decision that cost him dearly, as he was beaten and expelled from his family for his newfound belief. That experience forged in him a faith that has fueled more than two decades of teaching at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary at Andrews University, where he specializes in church growth, evangelism, and pastoral leadership.

A pastor for 20 years before joining the seminary, Joe is the author of more than 13 books translated into eight languages, and is known on the Andrews campus for his daily walks — rarely alone, always ministering to whoever joins him along the way. He also hosts Church Talk, a podcast featuring conversations with theologians, pastors, and church leaders on theology, community, and practical ministry through an Adventist lens.

7AM DAILY DEVOTIONAL

Mollie Dupper

Union Adventist University

Mollie Dupper is the chaplain at Union Adventist University and a pastor whose ministry has taken her from classrooms and youth groups to young adult communities and the senior pulpit. A 2014 Union graduate with a master's in pastoral ministry from Andrews University, she has served in schools and churches across Tennessee, Florida, and Colorado — most recently as associate pastor at Boulder Church. In every setting, Mollie's approach has been the same: servant leadership, prayerful attention to unmet needs, and creating space for people to grow in their walk with Jesus.

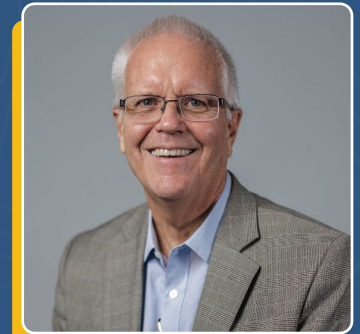

SABBATH 1ST SERVICE

Ron Carlson

Kansas-Nebraska Conference

Ron Carlson has served as president of the Kansas-Nebraska Conference since 2006, a calling that grew out of years of pastoral ministry in the Dakotas, Iowa-Missouri, and Northern California. Before stepping into the presidency, he also served as an administrator for the Iowa-Missouri Conference. A graduate of Union College (now Union Adventist University), he and his wife Sue have four children and seven grandchildren.

Youth Program

Tyler Kern

Upper Columbia Conference

Tyler Kern is the pastor of Home of Shalom, a next-gen church plant in Spokane, WA, and chaplain of Shine 104.9 radio station. A filmmaker turned pastor, Tyler brings creative, out-of-the-box thinking to everything he does. His ministry is built around connection — hosting worship in coffee shops, parks, and malls, leading outdoor Sabbath services, and organizing hundreds of hours of community service each year. He holds a Master of Divinity from Andrews University and is completing a doctorate focused on the power of storytelling through short film. He and his wife Amelia have six children.
