

OFF THE THREAD TASTING MENU

$49 PER PERSON

In weaving, the warp is the set of vertical threads held in tension on a loom, and the weft is the horizontal thread that weaves in and out of the warp to create fabric. Together, they form the foundation of textiles — the essence of structure and artistry, tradition and innovation. “To go off the thread is to unweave convention — to reimagine, to recompose, to dare. This is where culinary structure meets creative freedom.”
