STRAIGHT FROM THE PRISON

Dear DPM supporter,

As I look back over the past year, I'm deeply moved by what God has done through you and our workers and volunteers in the UK and further afield.

From the bustling cities of China to remote villages in Angola, from youth seminars in Sri Lanka to leadership training in Egypt, your prayers and generosity are bringing the truth of God's Word to those who need it most.

In this issue of our magazine, you'll read testimonies of lives changed, prisoners finding freedom in Christ behind bars, children learning biblical truths through creative media, and pastors equipped to serve their congregations with confidence.

Every one of these stories is part of your legacy as a partner in our ministry.

We live in uncertain times. Yet Derek Prince's timeless teaching reminds us that God's promises are unshakable, His provision is certain, and His desire is for each of us to know Him deeply. That's why our mission remains clear: to make Bible teaching freely available, in every nation and every language we can reach.

Thank you for partnering with us. Thank you for praying, giving, and believing with us.

As we look ahead, I'm excited to see how God will multiply the seeds you've sown, drawing more people into the life-changing knowledge of Himself.

Together, we are opening the Bible to the world.

Neil Cornick
DPM UK Director

Derek Prince Ministries (DPM) is an international ministry with over 45 national and outreach offices in different parts of the world.

Our mission is to make Derek Prince's Bible teaching available to spiritually hungry Christians through books, audio-visual resources, digital media and websites in over 100 languages - especially in countries where there is persecution and poverty.

Claiming our inheritance, for the glory of Christ

By Derek Prince

Did you know that there are about 8,000 promises of God in the Bible and they are all available to us when we need them? But we don't need them all at any given moment.

At any given moment we need to put our foot on one promise that represents God's provision for our need in that given situation.

So, the way I sum up 2 Corinthians 1:20 is this: "Every promise that fits my situation and meets my need is for me now." And remember the ultimate objective is the glory of God.

I want to point out an important thing that many Christians overlook. Most of God's promises are conditional! In other words, in most cases, but not in all cases, when God gives a promise He says to His people, "If you will do so-and-so, then I will do so-and-so." But we have no right to claim the promise unless we first meet the condition.

A good example of this is the promises of blessings listed in Deuteronomy 28. As we read these promises we need to bear in mind that the condition stated first is: "If you will diligently listen to the voice of the Lord your God." So, if we do not diligently listen to the voice of the Lord, we have no scriptural right to claim those blessings. We must fulfil God's conditions.

The next thing we need to see is that the fulfilment of God's promises does not depend upon our circumstances, but upon our fulfilling God's conditions.

What often happens to God's people is that a believer finds a promise which he needs, and he begins to claim it and then he looks at his circumstances and he finds that his circumstances are totally unfavourable. So, he concludes, "Well, it's true. God made that promise, but this is not the situation in which God can fulfil that promise." Now, that is totally wrong. That is where many of us lose our inheritance.

Take Abraham for example. God had promised Abraham a son, who was to be his heir. He reached the age of 99 and no son had come. Why does God often allow us to come to a position of seeming impossibility before He fulfils the promises we are claiming?

I believe there are two practical reasons.

First, we are emptied of self-confidence. We come to the point where we know that if it's going to be done, God will be the one who does it. That's where Abraham came to. He knew that there was no natural possibility for the promise to be fulfilled. Therefore, he had to focus his eyes solely and exclusively on God.

The second reason, I believe, is that when this happens all the glory goes to God. And remember, that's the purpose of the promises, that God may be glorified. When there's a possibility that we can do it by our own effort, then we may take some of the credit, but when we come to the place where we know we cannot do it on our own, we're exhausted of self-confidence, then the glory goes to God.

I would like to encourage you to do all you possibly can to claim your heritage in Christ.

We can never honour God better, than to enter fully in what he bought and paid for us, at such a high price. Therefore, let us claim our heritage!

Seeds of revival: God at work in China's next generation

In the face of economic uncertainty and record youth unemployment, a quiet yet powerful move of God is stirring across China—and you're part of it.

Thanks to your faithful support, Derek Prince Ministries' online Chinese teachings are strengthening believers every day. Young people hungry for lasting hope are tuning in, finding encouragement and purpose through biblical truth. One sister recently wrote, "May God continue to perform marvellous works among us, that we may together bear witness to His glory!"

Your generosity is also helping reach the next generation through vibrant, faith-filled animation videos. Children are responding with joy and enthusiasm, and the China team is more motivated than ever to develop creative content that speaks to the hearts of Generation Z.

Your gifts are fueling revival. Your prayers are helping plant seeds of faith in young lives.

And your support is helping build a future rooted in God's promises.

Reaching the least-reached in Angola

Since 2002, we've had the joy of partnering with Operation Mobilization (OM) in Angola, a ministry passionately committed to building relationships and planting churches among the least-reached.

Today, Derek Prince's Bible teaching continues to impact many lives. OM Angola shared: "We are so blessed with Derek's teaching. We are putting together discipleship material, using Derek's teaching, that we go through with the students in our one-year course. We love and appreciate you."

And there's more, recently, we connected with a trucking company in Angola to distribute Derek's teaching CDs to long-distance drivers. These drivers, often isolated and far from regular fellowship, will now have access to life-changing biblical teaching by Derek Prince.

Equipping young leaders in Egypt

In February, Derek Prince Ministries partnered with the Assemblies of God Church in Egypt to host a powerful training conference in Minya Governorate. Fifty young leaders and ministry workers gathered to be equipped to lead small groups across their communities.

During the conference, participants studied two of Derek Prince's foundational books—Foundational Truths for Christian Living and Faith to Live By. The impact was immediate. Following the event, each leader launched a small group of 15 people to continue teaching these life-changing truths, multiplying the reach of the Gospel throughout the region.

Thank you for helping make this possible. Your support is empowering young leaders in Egypt to disciple others and stand firm in their faith.

Now, the vision is growing. Our team in Egypt are working to create short, engaging reels with Derek's teaching, specifically aimed at young people.

Strengthening the church in Sri Lanka

Last March, DPM–India Directors Danny and Elsie returned to Sri Lanka for a fruitful ministry trip filled with powerful encounters.

Over five pastors' seminars and a vibrant three-day youth seminar, they shared the Word of God with boldness and clarity and gave away hundreds of copies of Derek's books. At a special conference in Kandy, more than 120 pastors and leaders gathered, and many left deeply encouraged and equipped.

One church leader, Rev. M, shared: "I've completed my Masters in Theology, but one key I had been missing was an understanding of intercession. You brought clarity on that through the teaching. Thank you for that!"

While Sister D testified: "I am a regular follower of your Bible teaching programmes on Swarga TV. Every time I would wander away or be in doubt, Derek's teaching draws me back and establishes me in the place I need to be."

Thank you for being a vital member of our outreach team! Your prayers and generosity are strengthening the Church in Sri Lanka, encouraging leaders, and guiding viewers back to truth through Derek Prince's teaching.

The path to knowing God

By Derek Prince

In a world chasing answers, the greatest discovery we can make is not a philosophy or a principle, but a Person.

Derek Prince invites us to return to the heart of our faith: a personal, life-changing relationship with God Himself.

After nearly seventy years of active involvement in the work of God in many nations, I have seen evil rise in the world at an alarming rate. The decline I have witnessed can only be described as cataclysmic. Dramatic changes in morality, relationships, and family life have resulted in violence, an upsurge of the divorce rate, and the open flaunting of wickedness in the form of sexually perverted lifestyles. When I look back at the decline I have seen, I ask myself, “Did all this happen in just a few years?”

We live in a time of incessant, violent, and uncontrollable change, a time about which Jesus prophesied that people’s hearts will be “failing them from fear” (Luke 21:26). As we witness the decline coming on the earth, a pointed question arises within me: “Where will the people of God find the strength to stand in the midst of this rising tide of evil and to prevail against it? Where will they find the strength to stay true to their faith?”

Strong people

The world depicted at the close of the book of Daniel could just as well describe the world we are living in today. Daniel’s world was a place of increasing evil and opposition to God and His ways. This book of the Bible prophetically describes a time when evil will be tremendously powerful, sweeping away almost everything before it.

However, Daniel also describes the kind of person who will not be overwhelmed by the flood of evil, a person who will instead be active, successful, and triumphant in the midst of it: “Those who do wickedly against the covenant he shall corrupt with flattery; but the people who know their God shall be strong, and carry out great exploits.” (Daniel 11:32)

The New International Version says God’s people “will firmly resist” this evil king. The Hebrew simply says they “shall do.” That usage is like a blank check upon which “the people who know their God” can write anything. In other words, there is nothing believers will not be able to do. But here is the phrase that deserves our complete focus: “The people who know their God shall be strong.”

Ultimate security

The only secure source of strength and power available to any of us is the knowledge of God. Over many years, I have met Christians from just about every denomination and type in a variety of segments of the Church. To my sorrow, most of them could not be described as strong. Despite their interest in many subjects related to the faith, many of them have relatively little time for God Himself.

When preachers teach about power, people's ears open. When they focus on healing, crowds will come. When they speak about dramatic aspects of Christian ministry, people seem ready to listen.

Rarely, however, have I heard preachers speak about knowing God Himself. Why is that focus so important? May I suggest an answer? Because anything not rooted in God Himself will be swept away by the flood of evil rising in the world with each passing year.

Avoiding 'God plus something'

As we have noted, many people in the Church today bypass a personal relationship with the Lord. Instead, they are distracted or preoccupied with some secondary pursuit. They may be able to quote Scripture and discuss doctrine, especially if they have a particular axe to grind. Sometimes, regardless of what you try to talk with them about, they always bring the topic back to their own particular focus. It's unfortunate, because they are missing the primary purpose of their redemption—which is to know the Lord.

Their attitude is that it has to be "God-plus-something." (Different groups each have their different "somethings.") They believe "God-plus-something" will do the job for them. No, God will do the job—never mind about the something. When we have God, we don't need anything or anyone else. These "God-plus-something" people ought to go to Colossians. That's where Paul says it clearly: Jesus Christ is the final answer.

"In Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily; and you are complete in Him, who is the head of all principality and power." (Colossians 2:9-10)

Jesus is the only answer. We do not need God-plus-anything-else. In fact, it is a sacrilege for anyone to put Jesus Christ on the same level with Buddha, Socrates, Muhammad, or anyone or anything.

Our primary focus

Some of us may get all wrapped up in going to church, knowing the Bible, seeking miracles, or even advancing evangelism. Those are all good pursuits, but if we are not primarily wrapped up in God, we are missing the central purpose of our salvation. When we bypass knowing God, we miss everything. God will still bless us and help us. But we will miss His purpose for us.

If you and I could hear the sounds of heaven, we would hear a deep sob in the heart of the Lord. He would be saying, "They want everything I have to offer but they are not interested in knowing Me."

This was true of me. As a professional philosopher, I searched everywhere (except for the right place—God) for the answer to life's problems. Earlier in life, I had concluded that Christianity was not the answer, so I turned to Greek philosophy, to yoga, and to all sorts of other outlandish ideas. Finally, late one night in 1941 in an army barracks room, when no one else was awake, I had a personal encounter with the Lord Jesus Christ. In that encounter, I met the Answer.

Later, I read in Colossians about Jesus Christ, "in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge" (Colossians 2:3 KJV). I said to myself, "Why should I grub around any longer in the rubbish bins of human wisdom, when all the treasures are hidden in Jesus Christ?" The Bible, I decided, is the Book with the answers, and I wanted to find in its pages what God has hidden in Jesus Christ. Everything I had tried to find in philosophy and in human wisdom I now found in Him.

The Alpha and Omega

Since then, I have been deflected and diverted on occasions into side issues. But, thankfully, I have always returned to this truth: Jesus is “the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End, the First and the Last” (Revelation 22:13), “the author and finisher of our faith” (Hebrews 12:2). We are complete in Him.

Whenever anyone starts to look outside of Jesus Christ, they will discover a multitude of fascinating and exciting theories and doctrines. But ultimately, they will find, like the prodigal son, that they are feeding on husks when they could be living on the Father’s bread!

For any of us as believers, it is possible to know the Bible inside and out, to read stacks of inspirational books, to attend conferences year after year, hearing the best preachers in the world, but still miss the mark.

What should be your true objective? What is the supreme experience to fulfill the purpose for which God redeemed you?

The knowledge of God Himself. Knowledge of anything else—no matter how good or right—will never satisfy the deepest desires of your heart. Only a personal relationship with God Himself through His Son, Jesus Christ, will accomplish this.

So, if you find yourself inclined to study the philosophies of human beings to find the ultimate answer for your life, I advise you to check your motives. What are you searching for? Are you seeking more knowledge about God? Or are you seeking a personal relationship with God?

Before you close your eyes tonight, take the opportunity now to set the personal knowledge of God as your highest pursuit. Once you know Him personally, you are on your way to finding true security. Only then will you truly fulfill His purpose for your life.

Is that your desire? - If so, let’s express that intention together with the following prayer:

Dear Lord, I desire You, and You alone. Please forgive me for being distracted by any other pursuit than my personal relationship with You. With this prayer, I commit myself fully to knowing You more completely. Amen.

Help take God's Word to every prison in the UK

We're excited to share some wonderful news about the relaunch of Inside Outreach! And with your help, we are seeking to reach all 142 prisons with the life-changing Word of God.

In the coming weeks, prison chaplains will hear from us as we prayerfully seek to open doors to bring hope, truth, and transformation to those behind bars.

Inside Outreach began in 1995 when letters started arriving at our office from prisoners who had discovered Derek Prince's teaching on UCB Christian radio. They were hungry for God's Word, and caring supporters like you helped us respond, by sending free Bible teaching to inmates through their chaplains. These resources, books, CDs, and DVDs, have impacted thousands of prisoners' lives over the years.

"Straight from the Prison" How your support is impacting lives.

"The prisoners absolutely love Derek Prince's books and proclamation cards! Many have read them all and wait with bated breath for any new ones you send."

"Books you send never go to waste. Inmates are using them to start Bible studies on the wings, discipling each other behind bars."

"When prisoners are transferred, they take their books with them — and I'm sure they pass them on. The Gospel is spreading from prison to prison."

"One prisoner came in not knowing Jesus — down, scared, and barely able to read. Over time he devoured every Derek Prince book we had. The Holy Spirit transformed him and even gave him a prophetic art gift he never had before!"

"We are seeing revival and many lives are being transformed by God's Word. The impact is real and growing."

Right now, men and women behind bars are hungry for God's truth. Your gift can put life-changing Bible teaching directly into their hands and their hearts. Will you give today and help transform lives behind bars with the hope of the Gospel? – Use the response form provided or scan the QR code here.

How Derek Prince's teaching sparked a ministry to the nations

"In the early days of my ministry, while training with evangelist Don Double, I enjoyed hearing Derek preach at Don's conferences. His sound biblical teaching, flowing with the power of the Holy Spirit, left a deep mark on my life. At that time, Derek graciously gave me permission to preach his sermons, providing me with a strong foundation for my teaching and preaching."

Derek's book The Divine Exchange, has become the backbone of my Gospel preaching in 57 nations, where, by God's grace, we have seen over 260,000 salvations and many physical healings. All glory to God, and heartfelt thanks to DPM for such a life-shaping legacy!"

Spotting fake Derek Prince YouTube channels

Sharing Derek's Bible teaching free of charge on YouTube is part of our mission to help Christians worldwide to grow as followers of Jesus Christ. Sadly, Derek's popularity has also attracted imposters who are launching unofficial channels pretending to be Derek Prince Ministries.

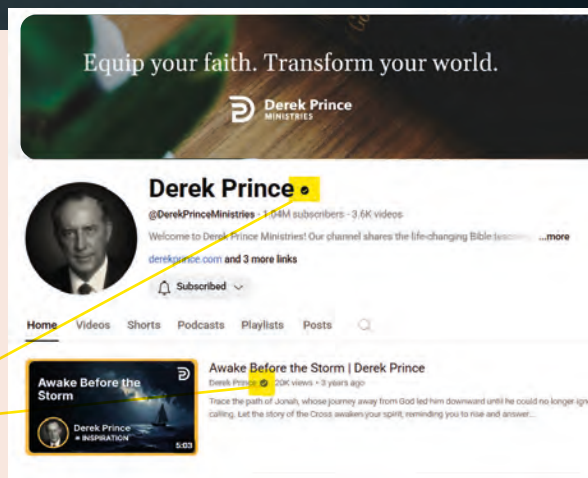

These fake channels can:

- Trick viewers into sharing personal information or money.
- Use AI voice cloning to create videos with false teaching.
- Damage trust in our ministry.
- Divert funds away from our outreaches. In the first half of 2025 alone, we detected over 250 fake channels, with up to 10 million views.

How to spot the real Derek Prince channel:

- Look for "Derek Prince Ministries" in the channel name. Imposters misspell Derek's name or use slightly different words.
- Check for the grey YouTube verification badge.
- Make sure videos feature the official DPM logo and link to derekprince.com.

Our team is actively removing imposters, but you can help too. If you see a suspicious Derek Prince channel or video, please let us know by contacting us at: enquiries@dpmuk.org and +44 1462 492100. Together, we can protect the integrity of Derek's teaching.

Your gift can open the Bible to the world.

Because of you,
seekers become believers and believers become disciples.

All over the world, men and women are longing for the truth of God's Word. Some are new believers taking their first steps of faith. Others are pastors longing to lead their flocks well.

Your gift of £35 today can put Derek Prince's life-changing Bible teaching into their hands – free of charge – in their own language, right where they are.

You can equip believers. You can strengthen churches.
You can impact lives for eternity.
