Tech and Democracy meme assignment

Technology can strengthen democracy but can also imperil it. In this episode of Group Chat, you heard from both techno optimists and techno soberists. Where do you position yourself in this debate? Is technology democracy's saviour or democracy's downfall?

This assignment asks you, the listener, to create a meme with your own answer to this question, based on what you learned listening to the podcast, as well as your own supplemental research. The trick in this assignment is to identify and distill the information you've gathered from the podcast/your research into a key point that can be communicated through a meme. In addition to the meme, please attach a 500-word explanatory essay, which walks the reader through the research and analysis behind your meme, and how you worked to communicate your perspective through the medium of a meme.
