SPRING/SUMMER 2026

Mirror Books

A growing book publisher, positioned at the very heart of media giant Reach plc. We live in the home of extraordinary stories.

Every day, tales of remarkable lives from people in the UK and around the globe come in through our doors and out through our newspapers, magazines and digital platforms.

Where better to find inspiring non-fiction narratives?

Letter from our Commissioning Editor

Clare Fitzsimons

In a world increasingly overtaken with fake news, the truth matters more than ever. And truth is at the heart of everything Mirror Books does and is.

True crime, true experiences, true battles to overcome horror, true tales of extraordinary lives in show business.

The range of our authors is wide and varied but at their core they are all sharing the truth of their lives, whether in the spotlight, fighting to achieve the seemingly impossible or simply to survive.

Some have been met with heartbreak, peril or persecution, but our authors have made their voices heard and found the strength to tell their stories for themselves and the wider world.

For others it is the fun side of life that they focus on in their memoirs. Inspiring moments, laugh-out-loud tales and anecdotes to make your granny blush.

A well-written memoir can transport you, empower you, connect with you, make you laugh, cry or rage, but whatever you feel, you know it's the truth, sometimes even when it sounds impossible.

After all, as they say, truth is stranger than fiction.

Hunting Shadows

The Truth About The Serial Killer Who Hid In Plain Sight

Jane Hamilton

Rights: UK & Europe, Eng Lang, exc Commonwealth inc Canada

Price: £10.99

In 1979, Brenda Spencer, a seemingly average teenage girl living in a nice suburban neighborhood, made and executed plans that would place her in infamy and set a violent and terrifying national precedent. She receives a rifle for Christmas and a month later set her sights and opens fire on the elementary school across the street.

The event is forever immortalised by the song 'I Don't Like Mondays' by The Boomtown Rats and marks the bloody beginning of the American phenomenon of school shootings. Long before Columbine and Sandy Hook, there was Brenda Spencer...

I Don't Like Mondays lays bare this teenage girl's brutal motives and subsequent arrest.

A Model Spy

The Incredible True Story of the German Spy Who Seduced and Deceived High Society

John Rory Maclean

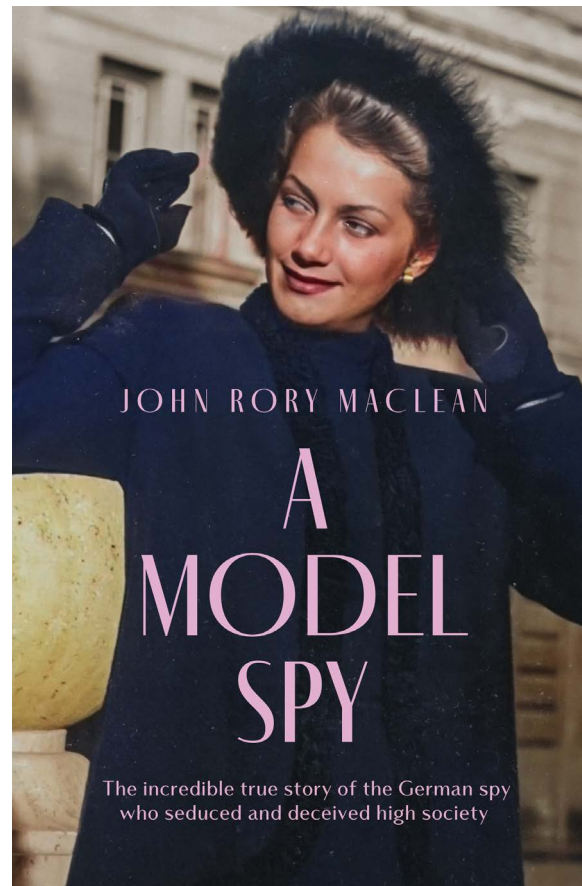

Out now in paperback

ISBN: 9781917439657
Rights: UK & Com exc.Canada
Price: £10.99

"Her activities for the last 10 years are certainly consistent with a high degree of espionage, although it has hitherto been impossible to say definitely that she is more than a widely travelled and remarkably well befriended adventuress."

A Model Spy is the never before told story of Gisela Klein, Germany's secret weapon. A woman of brains, beauty and charm, who befriended everyone from members of the British Royal household to the man who should have been the President of the United States of America.

A self-professed "anti-Nazi" and a networker of genius, she was the first steady girlfriend of the serial philanderer and British member of Parliament Jack Profumo. She was an intelligence asset for Germany in the 1930s who camouflaged her own link to Adolf Hitler's second in command, Herman Goering.

The true story of how more than 1,400 men and women of the Resistance, SOE agents, and airmen from Britain, the US and Canada were saved from death in a concentration camp by the courage and cunning of a small group of Belgian civilians.

The Nazi Ghost Train unfolds in a pulse-pounding narrative, describing the terror of being shot down on bombing missions, the fight to stay free and alive with Gestapo on your tail, and the gut wrenching horror of betrayal.

From the opening scenes inside a B-17 when it is pounced on by an enemy fighter to the final desperate hours on the 'Ghost Train', this fight for survival will keep readers turning the pages after they should have flicked out the light.

For the Love of Canals

Celebrating 2,000 Miles of British Canals

Paul Routledge

Out in hardback August 27

ISBN: 9781917439992
Rights: WAL
Price: £12.99

"It is remarkable how many miles of canals survive, often a tribute to the immense amount of hard work with picks and shovels, just like the original navvies, of volunteers who restored abandoned waterways"

For the Love of Canals brings readers on a journey round Britain's canals, their history, their rise, decline and rebirth, their role in trade, their romance, their dark narrative of crime, their future in the gentrification of homes by "the Cut" that were once deeply unfashionable but now highly sought-after, their sport and wildlife and most of all their sheer fun and pleasure, on the towpath, on board and in art, film and books.

Metal Mythology

Saga, Song and Story

Andy Boot

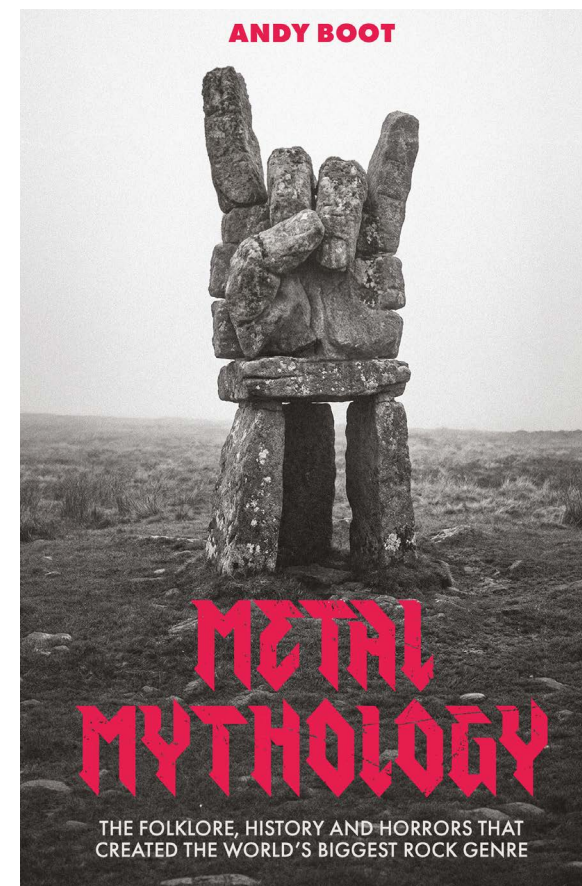

Out in hardback October 8

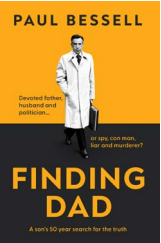

ISBN: 9781918517101
Rights: WAL
Price: £TBC

Heavy metal conquered the planet by delving into the folklore, mythology, history and horrors that have made us who we are. And we recognise this. Here are the biggest bands and the stories behind the songs...

Metal has become the biggest rock genre by drawing on a well of sounds and story that hits as hard as the riffs thundering from the Marshall stacks powering the guitars. Metal is a very British music genre, and much of the lyrical force comes from the folklore and history that pervades the land.

In an 80,000-word book we will focus primarily on those bands whose record and concert sales are matched by the intensity of their storytelling and the devotion of their fan base.

Author Chris Manby and social historian Simon Robinson finally give a voice to those children, and tell some of the very few untold stories of World War Two. Tales of hardship, danger, brutality and terror.

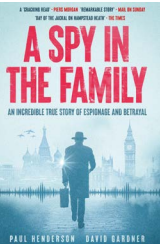

The Soldier Who Came Back

Steve Foster and Alan Clark

Out now in paperback
ISBN: 9781907324390 Rights: WAL Price: £9.99

In Northern Poland in 1940, at the Nazi war camp Stalag XX-A, two men struck up an unlikely friendship that was to lead to one of the most daring and remarkable wartime escape stories ever told. The pair bonded in the prison camp, and hatched a plan to disguise themselves as advertising executives working for Siemens. They would simply walk out of the camp.

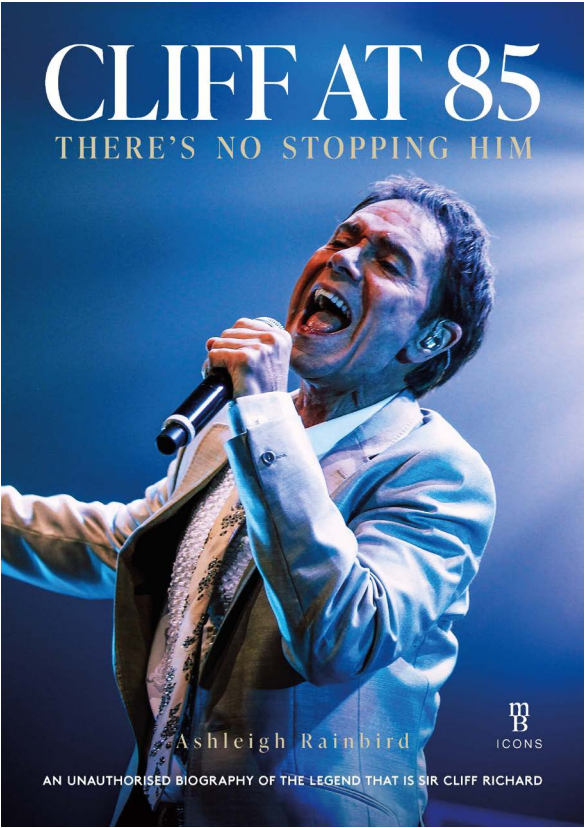

A Spy In The Family

Paul Henderson and David Gardner

Out now in paperback
ISBN: 9781917439534 Rights: WAL Price: £9.99

In A Spy In The Family, investigative journalists Paul Henderson and David Gardner reveal the incredible untold story of the mother who lost her son twice. For over 10 years, she had believed he was Erwin van Haarlem, the son she gave up for adoption as a baby in the chaos of Europe in World War Two. She’d embraced him into her family and showered him with all the love he’d missed as a child. Then she lost her son a second time when the police told her the man she now faced in court was an imposter.

ISBN: 9781910335482 Rights: WAL Price: £7.99

The astonishing true story of a daughter's search for her own past and the desperate mother who gave her up.

Phyllis Whitsell began the search for her birth mother as a young woman, and although it was many years before she finally met her, their lives had crossed on the journey without their knowledge. When they both eventually sat down together, the circumstances were extraordinary, moving and ultimately life-changing.

This is a daughter's personal account of the remarkable relationship that grew from abandonment into love, understanding and selfless care.

The Asylum

Carol Minto with Ann and Joe Cusack

Published July 8, 2021
ISBN: 9781913406608 Rights: WAL Price: £7.99

For 46 years, Carol Minto has quietly gone about her life, carrying with her the most extraordinary and heartbreaking secrets.

Born into poverty and with mostly absent parents, Carol helped to raise her nine siblings. But when she was just 11 years old, her older brother began to sexually abuse her. After four years, Carol managed to escape – and ran away from home.

Picked up by social services they place her at Aston Hall in Derby; a psychiatric hospital now infamous for the ghoulish ‘truth serum’ experiments it carried out on children. Over three years, Carol was stripped, sedated, assaulted and raped by Kenneth Milner, the doctor in charge.

Reach Sport

At Reach, if there's one thing we know, it's sport. Home to some of the UK and Ireland's most iconic brands, we are experts in the field.

Alongside our everyday reporting, we also work with some of the biggest clubs to produce exclusive books, magazines and matchday programmes so you can get your hands on even more behind-the-scenes action from your favourites.

Letter from our Commissioning Editor

Simon Monk

"Football is the most important of all the least important things in life" is a quote variously attributed to Carlo Ancelotti, Arrigo Sacchi and sometimes even the Pope. But while its provenance remains hazy, at Reach Sport we believe that whoever said it was on to something.

And not just football. In a world where politics, conflict and division can sometimes seem overwhelming, sport as a whole retains its unique power to captivate and unite us.

We tell the best tales from football, rugby, athletics, tennis and countless other sports. And whether it's the biggest names chronicling their highs and lows, or unsung heroes sharing their stories for the first time, we're committed to publishing the most compelling sports books for our readers.

We publish autobiographies from global superstars such as Paul Gascoigne, Conor Murray and Sergio Aguero, as well as hidden gems by the likes of Pep Lijnders, Keith Gillespie and Jamie Cureton. We also work with the biggest football clubs in the UK, giving us unprecedented access to the worlds of Manchester United and Liverpool among others.

We've been expertly telling tales of triumph and tragedy for many years, and we've got big plans for the years to come. And in an uncertain world, we believe it's more important than ever.
