

CompoSecure, a Reporting Segment of GPPI, Inc., Announces CEO Transition

January 21, 2026

- Appoints Graham Robinson as President and Chief Executive Officer of the CompoSecure reporting segment
- Adds 30-year industry veteran with extensive global executive experience and deep expertise transforming industrial and technology companies
- Supports the next phase of CompoSecure's growth strategy

SOMERSET, N.J., Jan. 21, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- CompoSecure, Inc. (NYSE: CMPO), which will be renamed GPPI, Inc. (the "Company"), today announced its Board of Directors has appointed Graham Robinson as President and Chief Executive Officer of CompoSecure, L.L.C., an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary and reporting segment of the Company, effective January 22, 2026. Mr. Robinson succeeds Jon Wilk.

Dave Cote, the Company's Executive Chairman, said, "We are thrilled to welcome Graham to CompoSecure at this stage in our Company's journey. Graham is a proven global business leader with extensive experience at blue chip organizations. His deep experience in technology and industrials, as well as his commitment to growth, operational excellence, and M&A, make him the ideal choice to lead CompoSecure through the next phase of our growth strategy. We are entering 2026 with great momentum and are confident in Graham and the leadership team to capture our large, growing market as we continue to accelerate our focus on driving cultural and operational transformation."

Robinson's career spans 30 years across the technology and industrial sectors, including at multiple world-class public companies. He brings deep commercial, operational, and financial experience, including a strong background in M&A. Most recently, he served as Operating Executive for The Carlyle Group in the global industrial sector and was SVP & Global President of Stanley Black & Decker's (NYSE: SWK) Industrial business from 2020 to 2025. Mr. Robinson previously served in several leadership positions of increasing responsibility at Honeywell, including President of Honeywell Industrial Safety and Honeywell Sensing & IoT businesses, from 2013 to 2020. He began his career in the technology sector garnering experience with Samsung Electronics and Micron Technologies, and from 2021 to 2025, served on the Board of Directors of Northrop Grumman, a leading global aerospace and defense technology company. Mr. Robinson holds a Master's degree in Finance and Strategic Management from The Wharton School of Business, a Master's degree in Electrical Engineering from Cornell University, and a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from the Polytechnic Institute of NYC.

Mr. Robinson stated, "I am honored to join CompoSecure at such an exciting time in its transformation. As the leader in metal payment cards and authentication solutions, CompoSecure is well positioned within an expanding, high-growth market that offers significant long-term opportunity, supported by sustained customer demand and investment. In addition, the Arculus platform provides upside growth potential with a strong value proposition delivering enhanced security and digital asset capabilities for our customers. I am excited to bring my strategic focus and operational rigor, as well as my commercial experience to bear to capture the robust set of opportunities in front of us. Together with our talented team and support from the Board, I look forward to a seamless transition and to driving continued innovation, operational excellence, and growth to deliver value for our customers, shareholders, and employees."

Cote concluded, "On behalf of the organization and the Board of Directors, I want to thank Jon for 10 years of tremendous service to CompoSecure. He has been instrumental in driving growth for our Company over the last decade and his impact with customers, employees, and investors has been significant. Jon has helped us establish a strong foundation to build upon and has positioned the company extremely well for this next phase of growth and transformation."

Financial performance at the CompoSecure reporting segment remains in-line with previously communicated expectations and the CEO transition is not the result of any disagreements with the Board on any matter relating to financial statements, operations, policies, or practices.

On January 12, 2026, CompoSecure, Inc. announced the completion of its business combination with Husky Technologies Limited ("Husky"), a leader in highly engineered equipment and aftermarket services, and the corporate entity rebranding to GPPI, Inc. ("GPPI"), which will be effective on January 22, 2026. This strategic move marks the evolution of GPPI from a single operating business to a diversified, multi-industry compounder. The combination of CompoSecure and Husky establishes a best-in-class organization featuring two market leaders, characterized by approximately 70% recurring revenues, high margins, and robust free cash flow generation.
