

Arculus and N.exchange Announce Partnership to Deliver Smarter, Better-Priced Crypto Swaps

September 24, 2025

Launches swap request Smart Order Router for the Arculus Cold Storage App

SOMERSET, N.J., Sept. 24, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Arculus, a CompoSecure technology (NYSE: CMPO), and N.exchange, a non-custodial cryptocurrency exchange/swap service, today announced a partnership to enhance Arculus Cold Storage Wallet in-app crypto swaps with broader access, improved pricing, and innovative routing technology.

Through the agreement, N.exchange has been directly integrated into the Arculus Cold Storage Wallet, significantly expanding in-app crypto swap options for customers. Users now have access to hundreds of new trading pairs through N.exchange, allowing for swaps to be executed at highly competitive rates, ultimately offering better pricing for consumers.

Through the partnership, Arculus Cold Storage customers will enjoy the benefit of competitive swap pricing. Arculus has also launched a Smart Order Router within the App. When a swap request is made, the system automatically compares prices across multiple sources—then routes the transaction to the venue offering lowest execution pricing available to Arculus.

Benefits to users include:

- Expanded access to hundreds of swap pairs
- Competitive execution pricing between providers
- Smart order routing for seamless, optimized swaps

Adam Lowe, Chief Product & Innovation Officer at CompoSecure said: "This partnership allows us to elevate the Cold Storage Wallet customer experience by leveraging our smart order routing technology with N.exchange's deep liquidity and competitive rates. Together, we're giving our users more choice, better value, and the opportunity to easily and efficiently trade crypto directly from their self-custody wallets."

Boban Saric, Chief Business Development Officer at N.exchange said: "We are thrilled to partner with the Arculus team to bring our liquidity solutions to their growing customer base. By joining forces, we are making crypto swaps more efficient, transparent, and cost-effective for everyone and are setting a new standard for in-app crypto swaps: more options, smarter technology, and better prices."
