

CHRISTMAS NEWSLETTER 2024

CEO NOTE

As we close 2024, I thank our young people, Windrush elders, and Caribbean lunch clubs for helping create Hackney Windrush Elders.

Big thanks to the Museum of the Home and New City College for their amazing support. Special gratitude to our youth ambassadors, youth board, and trustees for advancing our CIO status and sustaining Voyage's mission in what appears to be tougher times ahead for black led organisations.

Our Youth Ambassadors had the extraordinary opportunity to attend the Future Ed Awards.

Our heartfelt thanks go to Viv Ahmun, a dear friend of Voyage whose generosity made our attendance possible.

Windrush Elders Update

As we approach the conclusion of the Windrush Elders Project, we're proud to reflect on the incredible journey that our Ambassadors have undertaken.

The powerful stories of the Windrush Generation have been captured in our upcoming book, stay tuned for updates on its release.

Voyage Ambassadors

Our Ambassadors are at the heart of our mission, serving as inspiring leaders and role models within their communities.

We're incredibly proud of their achievements, working on our Windrush Elders project and championing advancements in Technology education, and we can't wait to share more about their ongoing work.

Voyage Voices

Voyage is excited to launch a new competition for young people this January, celebrating creativity and critical thinking. Participants will explore categories like Safety, Sustainability, Tech, or Heritage by creating videos, photo series, and articles.

Prizes include £100 for top entries, Limitless Live tickets for all, and even potential paid employment at Voyage.

Jobs Club

Continuing from the success of our Aim for Success project, we will soon be launching our Jobs Club, designed to help young people build the skills and confidence needed to enter the workforce.

The program will include practical support, interview preparation, networking opportunities with employers and exclusive jobs.
