Dear Prospective Student,

You are receiving this information letter as you have expressed an interest in studying: A Level Drama and Theatre

In order to participate successfully in the induction process during Wyke Start, you will need to learn the material below which will be a part of the practical workshop.

The Animals by Sean Buckley

GEE: Maybe if you're some kinda politician. But words ain't worth nowt here. My actions are tho. I know they have power. Known that since I was a kid... See that Seneca bro can chat what he likes about not getting angry, but I bet he never come from where I'm from, trust me. And this place... (looks around the sparse space) Just kept telling me the same since I come here - over four years ago - and I'll leave next week with no decent qualifications, cos of what I did it feels like - which I know was wrong and deserved to do time for... but it's like some sick typa double punishment, us not getting no proper schooling like them outside either. Cos what chance will we then have after? It's like they decided when they sentenced us our future's gone too... When I'm out, I know I'll just end up wanting to be back in here. So that's my 'Evaluation', Sam. This stuff you've put in our heads is too little too late!

During your Wyke Start lessons, you will also need to wear or bring all-black, comfortable clothing with you for the practical part of the lessons on both Wyke Start days. Completion of the practical sessions at Wyke Start are vital for successful admission onto the course at enrolment in September.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for choosing to apply to study on our course at Wyke, and look forward to meeting you soon! If you cannot attend for any reason, then you will be set practical tasks which you will need to submit online by Wednesday 24th June 2026. Please email laura.bulless@wyke.ac.uk if this is required. Additionally, please use this email address if you have any further questions at all regarding the workshop, the course in general, or if you no longer wish to study this course so that we can update our records.

Best wishes,

Laura Bulless
