

New In-app loyalty templates

New predefined in-app templates—designed to help you launch key loyalty features

How does it work

With the new templates, you can quickly implement essential components such as a digital loyalty card that shows real-time point balances and a personalized promotions catalog, all within your mobile app interface. No need for building features from scratch—just configure, style, and launch.

Both templates are built to help you reduce operational overhead and accelerate time-to-value, while ensuring consistency with your brand and marketing logic.

Loyalty Card template

- A unique, automatically generated barcode based on the customer identifier for scan-at-checkout identification
- Real-time point balance, based on a dynamic expression
- Fully styled, branded layout – ready to configure in minutes

Promotions Catalog template

- Dynamic list of coupons pulled from your promotion catalog
- Easy copy-to-clipboard option for each code
- Limit on visible coupons for a user
