Script #1

"Hi [Name], this is [Your Name]. I focus on recruiting within the [Specialty] space. I came across your profile and was impressed by your tenure at [Company]. I'm not sure if you're looking to make a move right now, but I'd love to introduce myself and see if I can be a resource for you as you think about your next steps. Do you have a few minutes to connect?"

Script #2

"Hi [Name], I'm reaching out because I'm currently working with several firms in the [Industry] area. I wanted to see how things are going at [Company] and offer a quick update on what we're seeing in the market regarding compensation and roles for [Job Title]s. Would you be open to a brief introductory chat?"

Script #3

"Good morning [Name], I'm currently heading up a search for a [Job Title] role that requires a strong background in [Specific Skill]. Given your experience at [Company], your name came up as someone who might be a good fit. I'd love to share the details and see if the timing is right for a conversation. Is now a good time, or is there a better window to talk?"

Script #4

"Hello [Name], I'm a recruiter specializing in [Field]. I try to keep in touch with the top [Job Title] professionals in the industry just to stay ahead of upcoming opportunities. I'd love to learn more about what you're doing currently so I can keep you in mind for anything that actually aligns with your career path. Do you have five minutes to sync up?"

Script #5

"Hi [Name], I'm calling because I've been tracking your work at [Company] for a bit. I'm curious to know if your current role is still providing the growth you're looking for, or if you'd be open to hearing about a new opportunity I'm handling that offers [Specific Benefit/Promotion]. Would you be open to a quick 'no-strings' call?"

Script #7

"Hi [Name], I'm [Your Name]. I specialize in the [Industry] space, and I've been following your work at [Company]. I'm calling because I'm curious if you're open to a brief conversation about your next career move, or if you're completely settled where you are?"
