Hungerford Family Art Exhibit

June 13 - August 8, 2025

Flower Memorial Library - Watertown NY

"Celebrate North Country history through the eyes of a local family. During the War of 1812, Orville Hungerford transported goods from New York City to U.S. military outposts along the Canadian frontier. It was an arduous journey that improved when the Erie Canal, linking the heartland to the nation's commercial capital, was completed in 1825. Seven years later, Hungerford wanted to connect the North Country via an iron horse. In 1851, the Watertown and Rome Railroad was completed months after his death.

To honor and celebrate this North Country family, we will have a display of their family heirlooms as well as comic book art detailing the history of the family. The displays will be up in our South Reading Room from Friday, June 13 – Friday, August"

BEAD & READ

TUESDAYS
10:30-11:30AM

DURING SUMMER
READING DATES:
JULY 1ST - AUGUST 8TH

This is a free library program open to all ages.
Come and get creative with Perler Beads!
We will have some patterns available, or you can create your own design!

Ironing the projects will be done by library staff, but parents or guardians are expected to stay on site as well.

There will be open play during the program where kids can explore the children's room and find their next favorite book.
Find a comfy spot and read to friends or quietly to yourself.
