BUSY TO BRILLIANT

The art of doing less but achieving more

How to focus, flow and find brilliance in every day.

In a world addicted to busyness, most of us are running on autopilot. Chris helps people cut through the noise and find their natural rhythm – bringing more focus, calm, and creativity to every day. Blending behavioural science with his TiO app, he gives audiences a practical way to process thoughts, manage emotions, and make space for what really matters. The result? Less stress, more impact, and a life that feels as good as it looks.

PEOPLE LEAVE WITH...

- Sharper focus, calmer thinking, and decisions that feel clear.
- Simple tools to quiet the noise in their head and stop overwhelm running the show.
- A genuine sense of control, even when work is fast, messy, and demanding.
- More energy for the work and the life that actually matters.

THE RESULT?

More clarity. More impact. And days that feel lighter, calmly focused, and a whole lot more satisfying.

So much big talk about transformation... Chris actually delivers it. Time and again. Part art, part gift, part crazy man. He works his magic every time!
