

INT. LIVING ROOM - NIGHT

A family sits in their living room, crowded around the TV.

A TV SET POWERS ON, AS THE FAMILY SETTLES IN.

KID

Shh, Fulton Sheen's on!

FULTON (ON TV)

Friends. Since our subject this evening is 'Women Who Do Not Fail,' perhaps we are entitled to tell the oldest story in the world about women and against them. This story is about Adam after the fall of man. He was out walking one day with his two boys, Cain and Abel. And they passed the wreck and the ruin of the once beautiful garden of paradise. Adam looked in rather wistfully, pulled in the two boys toward himself and said, "Boys... that's where your mother ate us out of house and home."

A THUNDEROUS LAUGH FROM THE AUDIENCE AND FROM THE LIVING ROOM.

FULTON (CONT'D)

God love you.

LOUD APPLAUSE RINGS OUT.

CUT TO:

5 EXT. "LIFE IS WORTH LIVING" OFFICES - DAY

A BUSTLING NEW YORK CITY STREET. HENRY, A MAILMAN, UNLOADS CRATES OF LETTERS.

005 HENRY

Hiya, Edith. How's everyone today?

A CRATE HITS THE GROUND.

006 EDITH

Oh, just great, Henry. Looks like lots of crates on the truck today.

007 HENRY

I think half of the mail in this truck is coming to you today, Edith. I told them the Fulton Sheen letters should be enough work for one mailman on his own each week. I can't handle any other stops!

CRATES CONTINUE TO BE STACKED.

008 EDITH

It is truly a blessing from God.

009 HENRY

Give my best to the Bishop.

010 EDITH

Will do, Henry!

CLARENCE AND A FEW CREW MEMBERS APPROACH.

011 CLARENCE

Is this everything, Henry?

012 HENRY

Looks like it!

◀◀ END

SUDDENLY, ANOTHER TRUCK PULLS UP. A MAN YELLS:

013 MAILMAN

Is this the Fulton Sheen office?
I've got a lot of stuff for ya.

014 EDITH

Thanks be to God!

JOYFUL MUSIC SWELLS.

6 INT. "LIFE IS WORTH LIVING" OFFICES - A LITTLE LATER

LETTERS OPEN. COINS JINGLE. TYPEWRITERS CLACK.

015 JIM

What started as a show reaching only 3 different channels, now airs on over a hundred different channels throughout the country. Re-runs are playing overseas. The DuMont Network is not only on the map, we are re-charting the map!

THE STAFF GIVES A LIGHT CHEER.
