ALFRED AND CLAUDE MANN

I often reflect on the achievements of the three children of Charles and Anna Mann. All three have accomplished so much; what was it that made all of us strive for the pinnacle of success?

Above all, I admire my brother Robert who became the premier chamber musician of the 20th century. His artistic achievements are inspiring. As Bobby's "little brother" he established standards that Rosalind and I have tried to follow.

Alfred and Claude Mann

