Transform, Innovate & Scale Financial Services

CodeHQ helps financial services providers modernise technology, improve operational efficiency and deliver better digital experiences through custom software development, systems integration and AI-assisted delivery.

With more than 30 years' experience, we combine New Zealand governance with our wholly owned development centre in Vietnam to cost-effectively provide scalable engineering capability without compromising quality, security or accountability. CodeHQ is a Theta Group company, bringing additional expertise, scale, and broader experience across a wide range of customers in this and other complex, highly regulated industries.

How we help you succeed

Business challenge	Custom development & integration of:	Business outcome
Regulatory and compliance requirements	Regulatory reporting, compliance systems, and governance-focused data platforms.	Improved compliance and reporting accuracy. Regulatory compliance.
Reporting, auditability, and data governance demands	Data platforms, dashboards, BI solutions, and reporting architectures.	Reduced manual reporting effort and faster reporting cycles.
Need for continuous digital innovation	Customer, adviser, and client platforms/portals, mobile applications, and digital channels.	Enhanced customer and adviser experiences.
Legacy systems limiting agility	Core business system modernisation, enterprise transformation programmes, and technology roadmaps.	Improved scalability, platform resilience, and future readiness. Security and reliability.
Growing reliance on data and AI	Integrated data platforms, APIs, reporting ecosystems, and modern architectures.	Faster data processing and improved decision-making. Data governance and custodianship.
Disconnected systems and processes	Systems integration and API ecosystems that improve efficiency and data flow.	Increased workflow automation and greater operational efficiency. Enables single view of both clients and operations.
