- V. People to be Heard—Alaska’s Open Meeting Act. Heather Coralluzzo and Derrick McDonald along with four students attended the Alaska Safety and Wellness conference. Student Keanu, a 12th grader, said it was a fun trip, being on the podium, answering questions and listening to the keynote speakers. Knowing that teachers had a similar experience as us students. They experienced how it was to be in our shoes, and it's different now from then. Student Merlin, 10th grade, learned that they help sometimes with what they do. Sometimes they give up on the students too early, they feel bad, and the first impression. Heather said they attended the Alaska Safety and Well being summit, we brought four kids to participate in the event and represent our school. They sat right in the front and they were attentive. The keynote speakers were engaging, so much so that the students chose to go up and get a picture with them. We even talked with the next keynote speaker. Merlin was super excited with all of them, he would just go off to different break out sections, he was right at the front of the room, asking questions and interacting. I was very proud with all our Chevak students at the event, they did a wonderful job, and behaved very well. They had fun also, and it was a successful event. Brian Meddler was one of the keynote speakers, his topic was “I was that students.”Who was put in special ed, and no one wanted to deal with, and no one got to know me. Then one of the teachers got to know him and built relationships with him. And understood that we cant teach our students until we know and build relationships with them. He made a plea to teachers “please get to know your students. Don't think that they don't care.” Our roles (teachers) are important. This was a heartfelt topic. The next speaker was Deena Simmons. The students were awake and paying attention. She talked about relationships and belonging with the students and teachers, along with the community. The students got to meet other students from all over and discuss many different topics. Derrick McDonald agrees with everything that Heather said. Said he went to a break out session about trauma and we talked about the way the brain works. If a child gets trauma done to the brain, its not called until later in life. They recommended trauma to the enrollment form, so it would be good to know so we can pick it up asap. Mr. Meddler’s topic, I was that student too. I had a bad stutter and didnt want to talk out loud. We need to figure out a way to help that one student. Some of these kids dont want to speak in front of people. Other than that, it was a very good.

Member Slat learned one thing was building assets. In order for a student to grow educationally, we need to start complimenting and building assets with the students. Another thing is, "how do we apply this to our district?" Even though it was a good conference, all too often we go to conferences and don't even plant a seed. Especially with teacher that may need to start building assets or to start interacting with traumatized students, so how do we do that. I think this would be a good start, this opens a lot of opportunities for us.

Member Atchak thanks the chaperones for bringing the kids. Travel exposure is really important for the young ones, especially for the seniors in their last year. They need to experience the outside world, its not the same as a village life. We have, at least two more travels with students, and we bring students too, so you can see and also see a section on young politics. With students around, the politics are more open and talking. So, I encourage more exposure for the students.

- VI. Board Travel Report. Member Tuluk one thing that stood out the most was self assessment. To have this done annually. If new board members are coming in, the AASB ladies can help with orientation. The speakers spoke about trauma as well, not as much but that they did go through that. Also talked about the Reads act, not much on it.

Member Atchak agreed with the board self assessment, we should do it annually. Also, the citizen advisory committee. If we can bring out such a policy on that. The Alaska Star was also brought up, the map growth interim assessment. Those stood out among the conference, it was like a crash course. Overall, thanks board on commitment for attending the conference and congratulations to Dayna on having her baby. And I was satisfied with their commitment. Member Slat mentioned that last Juneau trip we had a self assessment with Timmi. So, I think we need to travel a few days prior to Juneau because the fly-ins are usually busy. From the assessment, we also learned about the Superintendent information, financial, and how we are doing these things.

Member Atchak added one more thing, I was sitting there with a brand new colleague from Yukon Flats, this concerns what I've been researching for a number of years to bring in a celebrity type people, in all professional types of sports in America. I gave the contact information, but I don't know the cost of this, maybe a grant thing. But we are focusing on some new dangerous drugs showing up in our village right now. I know Toksook Bay has crystal meth that they're dealing with, and its already widespread over there, and with these celebrities can put the message out, these drugs are dangerous "only one time can kill you." These kids need to know the affect of these new drugs. These are illegal drugs. Donald Charlie will be the chaperone and founder of this. Not sure how much it costs but we can inquire about that. The kids health is important, and for them to know about these drugs.

Luther Kings quote. "If you sweep, you sweep like Michelangelo's painting", it made me think of all of our teachers, and staff. An example of this is "why should I be doing my job when another coworker isn't doing his job." John Moses used to work late cleaning up so that we (staff) may go to a clean school the next morning. About Michelangelo's painting, the angels in the sky would say "this was the best street sweeper that we have ever seen."

And for our next meeting we need an update on the gym floor, if it's done or not.

Superintendent Campbell said the painters will be here next week.

Alaska Superintendent Association Fall Conference - September 25-31, 2023

1. 9/27/23: ASA / AML AK Municipal League – There was a lot of discussion about the fund balance. Districts have carry over funds in their budgets because grants or ESSER is paying for items or salaries that were previously funded from the general fund. These fund balances appear as though the districts have excess funds and do not need money. There was wishful thinking about the state creating a BFA (Base Facilities Allocation). Most districts are using general funds or are getting donations from their cities. As an REAA a lot of the information presented did not apply.
2. 9/28/23: Billy Strickland spoke about 4 AAC 6.115 B5. This statute is still in draft and states that there can be girls basketball and basketball. Thus, it will be all inclusive of transgender females who want to play the sport.
3. 9/28/23: CEE Coalition for Education Equity is a committee that serves rural and underserved schools. I reached out to join.
4. 9/28/23: AI Jethro Jones - Artificial Intelligence is permeating education and can be used wisely to support staff and students. It can draw, write, do whatever you ask of it in relation to academic learning and creative arts. All of this is quite new to me.
5. 9/28/23: DEED spoke about the fall assessments. I created a spreadsheet that I have asked the staff to complete with all of the student data from Fall of 2022 to Fall of 2023. I asked them to chart the growth or lack thereof in the data. I asked for it to be ready at the next board meeting.
6. 9/28/23: Legislative panel: Two senators and two representatives spoke with us. They were all pro-education and BSA increased. They recommend that we provide evidence based data to support funding increase.
7. 9/29/23: Ricky Robinson author of Building Resilience in Students Impacted by Adverse Childhood Experiences spoke about mental, emotional, and behavioral health of staff. He spoke to compassion fatigue and burnout phases in staff and ways in which to address it. Ask the staff, “What do you need to feel more valued, connected, supported, and inspired.” He is a resource who could be hired to help with staff issues such as workplace bullying and getting the adults on the same page. He had a highly dynamic session and I am interested in learning more from him.
8. 9/30/23: Dr. Scott Seaman author of School Leader Paradigm asked the audience to reflect on the following questions:
 - a. What factors influence student achievement?
 - b. How do you know you are creating hope in your district for students and staff?
 - c. What do you know about yourself that helps or hinders question 1 and 2?
 - d. Does culture create the system or does systems create the culture?
 - e. How has leadership changed from 15 years ago to the present.

He then went on to discuss leading from three domains: culture, systems, and learning. I realized that I had to learn the systems in the superintendent position before I could lead from culture and learning. Systems is my dominant style of leading at this moment. He is another resource that I would recommend to come out and work with us to build a collaborative leadership where in every seat is a leader.

CTE Conference
Alaska Digital Government Summit
Notes / Visions / Follow-ups
10/1 thru 10/5

Both CTE (Career and Technical Education) and the Alaska Digital Government Summit presented a myriad of significant programs for our school, our students, and our state! Thank you for supporting our professional development.

Sam is a great traveling companion! While waiting at Bethel, I was amazed and very proud to be traveling with Sam as person after person stopped by to greet him. Sam is obviously well respected throughout the area and it was my pleasure to spend these days getting to know him better. Sam's IT position is one thankless and isolating job. As long as everything is good, no one notices. I would like to publicly thank Sam for all the technical prowess he brings and shares with us everyday! What an amazing human ;)

These are my highlights from the conferences.

Utilizing Alaska Resource Education services.

ARE recognizes Alaska indigenous people as the original custodians of our state. They have called Alaska home for generations, utilizing and respecting the land and its resources that all Alaskans call home today.

Brant Hylinski and his team presented snippets from their current classes. There is no cost to students - programs vary as do available online courses.

Hi Brant,
Thanks again for your presentation during the CTE conference ;) Loved the hands-on examples you and your team shared! I think our students would directly and certainly benefit from such instruction. How do we get started?

Hello Tom!

Thank you for the compliments on the presentation and hands on learning activities at the CTE conference. That is something we believe in at Alaska Resource Education (ARE), experiential learning experiences that will make a lasting impact on the students.

I have Beki and Taylor CC-ed in on this email chain. They are the scheduler extraordinaires that will help get this ball rolling and into the classrooms in your school!

Thanks Tom

Hey Tom –

Yes thank you for the kind words. We would love to see if we can put a trip together to come out and teach.

Couple of questions to get us started:

1. What grades/subjects do you teach?
2. Would you be able to help us fill several full days of teaching? We prefer to be able to build out mini units while we are in a community and teach the students multiple times during a week and have full days of teaching.
3. What time of year is best for you/the school for us to come out?

Thanks

Greenhouse Plans 2.0

This presentation blew me away! Let's rethink our greenhouse plans and replace them with:

Dutch buckets and grow towers / Worm castings / Pruning tomatoes

Scott McManus / Strawberries 🍓 / Aquaponics - fingerlings ?

Farm.bot / Water test kits / Used Conex - ask Bjorn / Jungle juice

$$$ Save Alaska micro grants / TC / IAC / Corps

Could we consider building growing homes in old buildings scheduled to be torn down?

Gateway Greenhouse Projects

The Gateway Greenhouse facility was originally built as a means to supply the district's food service program with fresh produce. However, it has grown into much more, and is now integrated into district programs and curriculum in a myriad of ways.

Since 2016, it has hosted Tok School's greenhouse courses, which in 2018 morphed into FFA related courses with the district's new FFA charter. Greenhouse education has grown to include hydroponic gardening as well. The greenhouse is regularly incorporated into the high school's culinary class.

Last year, the district purchased a Charlie Cart for use in the elementary school, as a means to make the culinary "bridge" that helps to bring greenhouse education into the elementary classrooms. The cart now travels to the district's outlying sites for the same purpose, and plans are underway to acquire another cart for Tok.

Good morning Tom,

I was hoping we could briefly chat about the CTE conference this past weekend in Anchorage. I'm curious about what was presented at the conference so we can follow up with our Alaska sites.

This is Greenhouse is a successful model for us to emulate!

In summer 2018, the district held its first week-long greenhouse day camp for elementary students. The camp was a success, and was so popular, it is repeating in summer 2019 and will run for a longer time.

Greetings from Chevak Jake!

You and your presentation partner made the entire conference for me! Sorry for monopolizing your time while people were moving. Having some time to talk pedagogy and VR development is a luxury which seldom crosses my path these days.

Could we reconnect around the VR application and development of something geared towards saving the Tundra? Tundra, permafrost, environmental concerns are all timely educational topics. If we can help the planet here, there, anywhere, it seems like time and $$$ well spent.

Please let me know how best to reconnect.

Whatever works best for you, works for me ;)

And

Greetings from Designori, Tom!

We would be excited to reconnect with you. I just looked over your school's website and have a number of ideas, environmental and otherwise. How does a Zoom meeting sound? Wednesday through Friday this week are generally free or flexible on our side. If any of those days work let me know a few windows of time that are good for you and I will send you an invite of one of the times that matchup and work for us.

Looking forward to it,

Sarah's presentation transitioned us nicely for -

Port Alaska

The US Navy vessel Bob Hope had docked the night before. The vessel is over 900 feet long! The Port authorities also shared Alaska's location significance in reaching most major ports around the world ;)

Our final stop was:

The Alaska Railroad

Our final destination was The Alaska Railroad Depot. Every year the Railroad hires people to help with track maintenance. This was another epiphany for me ;) Imagine working Summers, camping along the rail, getting room, board and over 20 dollars an hour! Our presenter shared the railroad's need for seasonal and full time workers.

Alaska Digital Government Summit

The highlight of the entire summit was keynote speaker John Register.

“John Register is an exceptional speaker! He works in a variety of settings ranging from small groups through keynote presentations. He embraces his audiences and captivates them through touching and entertaining personal stories about issues that impact all of us. His message is poignant and customized for each group and includes stories about life challenges, leadership, diversity and disability. ” His talk, “TransformAdversity into Advantage: How to Conquer Life’s Hurdles” not only fit nicely with all the info and challenges of the week, he helped both Sam and me both through inspiration, humor, energy and endless grit!

And finally - one last magic moment ;)

CTE Conference

2023 October

Career And Technical Education,

This conference is designed to explore other options other than 4 year college degrees, this includes certificates. It is also offered in the UA system. What the “now” that they are pushing is those jobs that is tied to Broadband infostructure that is happening now. Money is coming in to rural settings and they are using some outside companies to fill those positions.

Other training available in the UA(university of Alaska) Aviation maintenance, which is a one year certification, also diesel and automotive mechanic. Jobs in these usually have placement once those courses are done.

The marine sector is also one that needs jobs filled, we visited the Copper River Seafoods that is seasonal that can become permanent. This company is located in anchorage, Port of anchorage is always looking for workers. If someone is looking for a job in this sector it would not be hard to fill if a person had the right training.

If we can expose our students as early as middle school, they may have an idea on what to work towards as they get older. I was visioning students touring the aviation facilities and port of anchorage as I was going through it.

What were currently doing at the school is great, Welding, EXCEL, and T3 Upward bound. These help students get ready for the real world and expose what's out there. Conference was a big help understanding what it was all about. Also, good way to connect with others doing the same thing. Glad I went.

Samuel Ulroan

F. Tardiff Travel Report

During the week of October 12th, I attended the ACSA Principals Conference in Anchorage, Alaska.

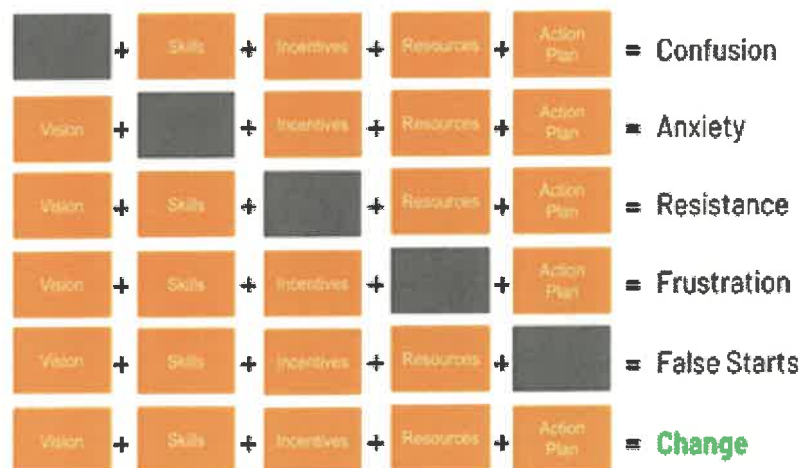

Key learnings-

Ricky Robertson talked about Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and how they affect students at school.

- SEL programs are not the answer for teaching our students Social-Emotional Learning. The strategies that are within these programs are great, but they do not transform schools.
 - The key is establishing "Essential Practices"
 - Welcoming Routines
 - Meetings/Circles
- He reiterated that our Professional Development should not be focused on fixing the kids. It should be about teaching the adults to do what is best for the kids. This goes back to the idea of schools when they purchase programs that are designed to "fix" whatever problem that is in school.

Andrea Everett- Assistant Superintendent of Mat-Su had a breakout session on the AK Reads act.

- It became evident in conversations that all districts are feeling the same way in implementing all the components of the AK Reads Act
 - She shared the Barriers of Change Matrix and had all districts find where they feel staff are in the process
 - Most Districts felt they were missing a combination of important items to feel successful

Dr. Mary Lippitt (1987)

- She shared the "Alaska Reads Act Implementation Guide for Principals" that their district has created for their administrators to help guide them through the process

- It would be a goal of our district to create a similar guide to help facilitate our Leadership Team.

Ricky Robertson led a breakout session on “Educator Resilience” where he went through different scenarios schools can face and how to work through them.

- Focus on what you can change (Professional Responsibility) and not what you can’t change (Personalities)
- Fostering Educator Resilience and Efficacy
 - Raise Awareness of the impact of chronic stress, compassion fatigue, burnout and psychological safety
 - Provide tools for individual and collective assessment
 - Encourage individual self-care & implement schoolwide/district wide community care
 - Monitor impact for continual improvement
- “Stress in the classroom is contagious”
 - Students can feed off of teacher stressors

Jeannea and I signed up for more PD with Ricky Robertson in November.

DISTRICT Screening Windows (to be completed as calendars are approved)

	FY24	FY25	FY26	FY27	FY28
FALL	Sept 5 – Sept 15, 2023
WINTER	Dec 11, 2023 – Dec 21, 2023
SPRING	Apr 29 – May 10, 2024

The DISTRICT screening windows must fall within the state window. Best practice to achieve valid and reliable results dictates the district window should be approximately 2 weeks. The DISTRICT assessment calendar is developed after the district wide calendar is approved by the school board.

Important dates according to the Alaska Reads Act include:

- Parent notification of a student's reading deficiency (grades K-3) must occur within 15 days of the end of the screening period. (STATE window)
 - The DISTRICT window will always be shorter; therefore, the district will set our parent notification date for about 15 days after the end of our window, so parents do not have to wait as long. There is no need to wait longer to notify parents if we have results.
- Develop Individual Reading Improvement Plans for each Tier 3 student within 30 days of the end of the screening period. (STATE window)
 - The state window is long enough to include our Parent/Teacher Conference dates. The district recommends school teams develop IRIPs as soon as possible after the DISTRICT window closes and results are in; teachers can then use Parent/Teacher Conferences to discuss/update/review these plans and introduce the information about grade progression. Kindergarten does not start the IRIP process until after the winter screening window.
- Hold a grade progression meeting with parents of K-3 students who have remained Tier 3 according to the spring screener at least 45 days prior to the end of the school year.
 - The 45 day window falls before the spring screener is completed, but the final decision on grade progression must be made after the spring screener. The state, and district, recommend school teams have this meeting during the February parent conference date with the understanding that a final decision cannot be made until spring scores are completed. The spring decision can then be as simple as a follow up phone call with parents or as formal as a team meeting. This will be dependent upon the child, the family, and is a site based decision. Grade progression meetings should focus on students who have remained Tier 3.

SCREENING FOR DYSLEXIA

- Students who score Tier 3 according to the aimswebPlus screener will need a dyslexia screener completed.
 - The screener is not given to students like a traditional 'test'. It is a set of questions the teacher answers based on their observations of the student.
 - In early fall, teachers get copies of the dyslexia screener to review the questions and begin observing for the indicators.
 - When aimswebPlus testing ends, teachers complete the screener for their Tier 3 students in grades K-3.
 - Teachers use the same form for each student throughout the year; mark F if an indicator is observed in fall, W if it is observed in winter, and S if it is observed in spring.
 - Schools determine who enters the dyslexia screener information, however all classroom teachers who give aimswebPlus have access to enter scores for the students in their homeroom class.
 - The teacher who completes the dyslexia screener should be the teacher with the most time observing the student; it could be the regular education classroom teacher or a special education teacher. A regular education classroom teacher and special education teacher could also complete the screener together.
- Neither the state nor school district has a qualification specific to dyslexia, but it may be present in students who qualify with a Specific Learning Disability or any other qualification area.
- The dyslexia screener provides information that indicates a student may have risk factors for dyslexia, but it does not diagnose it.
- The screener helps teachers understand which students may have dyslexia indicators so they can address it with their instructional practices.

DIAGNOSTIC ASSESSMENT

Screening assessments are intended to screen for risk of reading failure and determine deficiencies in broad categories. With this information, teachers can then determine which diagnostic assessments can give them skill specific areas to target with instruction.

On the Elementary MTSS Tiered Plan of Services, there are tabs for each grade level that provide grade specific guidance on how to use diagnostic assessments and reports for the purpose of tailoring instruction.

Reports within the core program that are also helpful:

- Grade Level Scaffold Report: This report gives teachers information about how to help Tier 2 and 3 students access core content successfully.
- Instructional Groupings Report: This is not tied to the current lessons, a student is placed in this report based on their lowest domains. This report helps teachers to determine the skill gaps that need to be closed for each student based on the grade level standards.

SUMMATIVE ASSESSMENT

The statewide assessment given in the spring called AKSTAR is a summative assessment that measures a student's proficiency of grade level standards. The test is given beginning in 3rd grade.

OUT OF SCHOOL INSTRUCTION

For students scoring in Tier 3 according to the aimswebPlus screener, the law requires that schools provide extra instruction (75 minutes per week) outside of the school day. The 75 minutes can be delivered over the course of the week and does not have to be 75 minutes at once. The chart below shows the possible delivery models:

Method of Delivery	When	Delivered/Monitored By	Materials Used
In person tutoring @ school OR Virtual tutoring	Before or after school 15 min. per day 5 days a week 25 min. per day 3 days a week 35-40 min. per day 2 days a week	Tutor/Advisor Paraprofessional Core Specialist Classroom Teacher Special Ed Teacher	School site teams determine instructional materials/programs to be used. Based on student need in area of deficiency.
Asynchronous at home: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Google classroom Digital program Print materials 	Flexible schedule as long as 75 minutes are completed over the course of the week School site teams determine how to monitor completion.	Multiple methods, some examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The student could be working independently & monitored by a family member. The student could have materials provided by the teacher & delivered by a family member. 	Use Tiered Plan of Services for guidance on programs.
*Outside Tutoring services (private provider either in person or virtual)	75 minutes over the week recommended	Private Provider	Determined by the provider
Migrant Ed/IEA Tutoring Services	75 minutes over the week recommended	Depends on service – Contact Chasitie Cork, Program Administrator in Federal Programs 746-9276	Depends on service
Imagine Learning – English Learners	75 minutes over the week	Usage monitored by EL teacher, license paid for by district	Online program
Alyeska Reading Institute	75 minutes over the week recommended	Info coming soon

Not paid for by the district or school*

School site teams must make a reasonable effort to ensure that parents understand why the extra instruction is provided and how it relates to the law. If parents choose not to have their child engage in additional instruction outside of school, it can be noted on the IRIP or IEP.

Out of school instruction should begin as soon as possible following Tier 3 identification.

Out of school instruction should continue until the student is no longer Tier 3.

SPECIAL EDUCATION GUIDANCE

For students who qualify for special education in the area of reading:

- The IEP serves as the Individual Reading Improvement Plan.
- The student should be included in core, Tier 2, or Tier 3 instruction as appropriate and as outlined in the IEP.
 - Accommodations/modifications are provided.
 - The school site team determines the model for delivering instruction (see the K-5 Instructional Model document).
- The student should be included in opportunities for extra reading instruction outside of the school day as appropriate.
 - Accommodations/modifications are provided.
- Instruction may be delivered in a 'pull out' setting based on the need identified in the IEP. For example:
 - A student's IEP indicates they are best served by receiving core instruction in a small group 'pull out', but they are able to successfully learn with peers in the general education setting during WIN time/skills block/intervention time.
 - A student's IEP indicates they should receive core instruction, but their accommodations/modifications indicate they need it delivered in a small group setting.
 - A student is cognitively impaired and on alternate assessment, the IEP team has determined the student will not benefit from the core program and needs specialized instruction delivered by a special education professional.

Related services:

- Related service providers should make a reasonable and substantial effort to avoid pulling students during the core reading block.
- Students who are pulled for related services during any tiered instruction must still meet the minutes for reading instruction as outlined in their IEP. School teams work together to determine how to meet those minutes if pulling them for related services is unavoidable.
- Related service providers work with the principal and staff delivering reading instruction to determine the best way to provide services.

Dyslexia (Repeat from the Screening Assessment Section)

- Students who score Tier 3 according to the aimswebPlus screener will need a dyslexia screener completed.
 - The screener is not given to students like a traditional 'test'. It is a set of questions the teacher answers based on their observations of the student.
 - In early fall, teachers get copies of the dyslexia screener to learn the questions and begin observing for the indicators.
 - When aimswebPlus testing ends, teachers complete the screener for their Tier 3 students in grades K-3.
 - Teachers use the same form for each student throughout the year; mark F if an indicator is observed in fall, W if it is observed in winter, and S if it is observed in spring.
 - Schools determine who enters the dyslexia screener information, however all classroom teachers who give aimswebPlus have access to enter scores for the students in their homeroom class.
 - The teacher who completes the dyslexia screener should be the teacher with the most time observing the student; it could be the regular education classroom teacher or a special education teacher. A regular education classroom teacher and special education teacher could also complete the screener together.
- Neither the state nor school district has a qualification specific to dyslexia, but it may be present in students who qualify with a Specific Learning Disability or any other qualification area.
- The dyslexia screener provides information that indicates a student may have risk factors for dyslexia, but it does not diagnose it.

The screener helps teachers understand which students may have dyslexia indicators so they can address it with their instructional practices.

GRADE PROGRESSION INFORMATION

PRINCIPAL GUIDANCE: USING LIGHT'S RETENTION SCALE TO MAKE GRADE PROMOTION DECISIONS

Introduction

The Alaska Reads Act requires that for all third grade students who (1) have a reading deficiency as identified by the spring screener, and (2) who do not demonstrate sufficient reading skills to progress to fourth grade, school staff and parents must determine whether to promote the student to the next grade level. If parents request that the student is promoted, they must sign a waiver acknowledging the deficiency and agreeing that the student will participate in 20 hours of reading instruction over the upcoming summer.

Key Points in Retention Research

Most current research indicates that retention may lead to relatively small, short-term gains in academic performance. In addition, while the gains may be apparent in the first year or two after retention, those gains tend to diminish until there is no measurable long-term difference in academic performance. Retention may increase the risk for negative outcomes, especially at higher grades.

Light's Retention Scale, 5th Edition

Each school is provided a Light's Retention Scale Kit. The LRS-5 considers 19 different factors that influence the success of grade promotion or retention. Section 3 of the LRS-5 Manual discusses each of these 19 factors in detail. Anyone completing the LRS-5 must read and review Section 3 prior to completing the rating scale. The LRS-5 is a questionnaire that can be completed individually or with a group, such as during a parent/teacher conference, and the student does not need to be present. It takes about 15 minutes to complete.

From the LRS-5 Manual:

"The LRS-5 should never be used as the sole criterion in determining whether a child is retained, but should be used to complement the professional judgment of the educator, augmenting professional judgment with the latest research on grade retention."

When to Use the LRS-5

The LRS-5 is a tool that can be used to provide guidance any time grade promotion is in question. However, in the context of the AK Reads Act, the LRS-5 may be used for K-3 students who remain Tier 3 according to the fall & winter screeners, but the student was not referred for a special education evaluation. If a parent is truly considering keeping their child in the same grade, use the LRS-5 to provide more information to help guide decision making.

Progressing to the next grade is preferred, retention is a last option and parents should be well informed. The final decision rests with the parent. If a parent is not involved in the process or does not make the decision, the final decision is made by the school principal. Lack of parental involvement should be documented and kept in the student's digital cumulative file.

Students being considered for special education evaluation, with a current IEP, or those who are English Learners should be progressed to the next grade level.

MSBSD Grade Progression Flowchart: Students Remaining Tier 3

Fall

- If a student scores Tier 3 on the fall screener:
 - Discuss instructional plans during P/T Conferences (see Fall P/T Conference Agenda)
 - Provide Grade Progression Info for Families doc

Winter

- If the child remains Tier 3 after the winter screener:
 - Use the February P/T Conference Agenda
- If the parent and/or team is considering not progressing the student:
 - Complete the Light's Retention Scale

Spring

- If the child remains Tier 3 after the spring screener:
 - Provide results from Light's Retention Scale if applicable.
 - Parent makes final decision on grade progression.
 - If no parent is involved, principal makes final decision.
- If the child is a current 3rd grader:
 - Parents sign the State Waiver to progress to grade 4.
 - Waivers are uploaded to the digital cumulative file.
- Any K-3 student who is NOT progressed (retained):
 - Document the decision on the Tier 3 MTSS plan before closing it out.

READING PORTFOLIOS

Click here to read the state approved reading portfolio document.

From the cover page of the state approved reading portfolio document:

The Alaska Reads Act outlines requirements regarding student mastery of foundational reading skills that are grounded in the evidence-based practices of the Science of Reading. Throughout the Act there are flexibilities to determine if students have mastered these specific skills. One of these flexibilities is the Reading Portfolio. The Reading Portfolio is noted as an alternative to the statewide screening tool data in several places:

- Reporting proficiency of students to the Department. AS 14.13.120(h)(2)(G)
- For consideration in progression for students completing grade 3. AS 14.30.765(e)(3)

The Reads Act provides the Alaska Department of Education and Early Development (DEED) the authority to create measures for a Reading Portfolio that allows districts to show that students have demonstrated mastery of reading standards based on a set of criteria established by the department (AS 14.30.765(e)(3)). The following document outlines the specific skills that need to be mastered at each grade level. In order for the Reading Portfolio to be used as an alternative to the statewide screening tool data, measurable evidence must be provided for each skill listed. In addition, the student must master the skills in their grade level as well as master all of the skills in each of the previous grades. For example, a second grader must meet all of the requirements for grade 2, grade 1, and kindergarten.

MSBSD guidance for using reading portfolios:

Schools MAY use the state's reading portfolio to document a child's proficiency in reading skills for students who do not take the aimswebPlus test, typically due to a parent opting out of assessments. Schools are not required to use this method. If a school chooses to utilize this method, the following applies:

- The school administrator determines how the documentation will be collected, stored, and passed on to the next grade level teacher or advisor.
- Documentation must be kept electronically, and the school administrator is responsible for reporting which students used this method to determine proficiency. (See Data Reporting Procedures section)
- The school administrator determines which staff will be responsible for ensuring the portfolio evidence accurately describes proficiency of foundational skills. A portfolio is only considered complete if the student can demonstrate proficiency in all necessary skills listed in the portfolio.

Workshop series descriptions

In this four-part virtual workshop series, renowned educator, consultant, coach and author Ricky Robertson will deepen participants' understanding of trauma-informed behaviors, social-emotional supports and restorative practices as well as introduce strategies for implementation of the principles and practices in the classroom and schoolwide.

Session 1 –

Schoolwide Trauma-Responsive Practices (Tier 1)

A trauma-informed approach is a schoolwide approach to supporting the social-emotional and behavioral needs of all students, especially those impacted by

ACEs and trauma. In this virtual workshop, we will explore student behavior as a form of communication and develop classroom-based and schoolwide strategies to support students. Participants will deepen their understanding of relationship-based teaching and acquire skills to foster safety, trust, and belonging in their classrooms and schools. They will be introduced to strategies that support students' abilities to communicate, problem-solve, regulate, and develop a sense of accountability and hope.

Session 2 –

Trauma-Informed Social Emotional Learning

Social-emotional learning is a critical component of quality core instruction. To truly have an impact, social-emotional competencies must be integrated into daily classroom routines and management. Students' social-emotional outcomes improve when they see healthy behaviors regularly modeled, practiced, and reinforced. In this session, participants will develop a plan for integrating culturally responsive and trauma-informed social-emotional learning competencies into their curriculum and instruction.

Session 3 –

Trauma-Informed Restorative Practices

Trauma-informed schools respond to conflict in ways that build trust and accountability. In this virtual workshop, participants will be introduced to the fundamental principles of Restorative Practices. Participants will be introduced to Tier 1 community building circles for both staff and students. Then we will explore the core principles of Restorative Practices and some useful tools to engage in restorative dialogue and problem-solving. Participants will consider the next steps for integrating these principles and practices into their classrooms and schools.

Session 4 –

Teams & Teamwork for Sustained Implementation

To truly meet the needs of our students, we have to focus on long term implementation of trauma-informed behavioral and social-emotional supports. We cannot do this work alone, we need to work together with our colleagues, students, families, and community partners. This session will focus on teams and teamwork to support long-term implementation of trauma-informed practices and ways to assess their impact and build teachers' collective efficacy in responding to the needs of their students. In many respects, this session is the most important one of the entire series. If we don't have a system in place to monitor the impact of our efforts, then there is no way to sustain and improve them.

Report to the School Board

Lillian Olson – Director of Resources
District Testing Coordinator

Waqaa, School Board-ani! The school's MAP testing is complete as of this week. The grades that have 100% tested are:

1st Grade
2nd Grade
3rd Grade
4th Grade
5th Grade
6th Grade
7th Grade
8th Grade
11th Grade

Grade Levels missing one student are: Kindergarten, 9, & 10. Grade 12 had at least four students not showing. All MAP data has been provided to all teachers as of last week. All work was done through the leadership of our school Principal Falon, Molly, our Reading Specialists Alan Antiniero and Stephanie Benson. The Middle School and High School did some data work this week under the direction of Superintendent Jeanne Campbell.

The Alaska Developmental Profile list of Kindergarten students was uploaded and ready for the teachers. For those of you that don't know, the Alaska Developmental Profile is Alaska's Kindergarten entry assessment. The ADP is used to provide a snapshot of each child's development when they enter Kindergarten. The Alaska Developmental Profile (ADP) assesses 13 goals across 5 domains of development. They are:

- 1) Physical Well-being, Health, & Motor Development
- 2) Social & Emotional Development
- 3) Approaches to Learning
- 4) Cognition & General Knowledge
- 5) Communication, Language, & Literacy

Teachers are also required to include "child background" information because these factors affect a child's school performance. This includes the child's pre-school experience, if the child has an individualized education program (IEP), and the child's health information. Teachers are encouraged to talk to parents to get this background information.

I have been doing some walkthroughs with Molly and checking to make sure that the new curriculum (CKLA is being implemented in grades K-3). In summary, inventory of CKLA materials and working on English Language score reviews and printing letters to send out to parents of the English Language Learners and other daily duties to end this week.

October School Counselor Report

BP 4119.41/4219.41/4319.41 - ALL PERSONNEL - EMPLOYEES WITH INFECTIOUS DISEASE

Note: The Americans with Disabilities Act defines AIDS as a physical disability. School districts have a legal obligation to determine on a case by case basis, based on sound medical information, whether an HIV-infected employee can remain and work in the school environment. Employers are required to reasonably accommodate a disabled person. Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 provides that no otherwise qualified handicapped person may, solely by reason of the handicap, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. In School Board of Nassau County, Fla. v. Arline (408 U.S. 273 (1987)), the U.S. Supreme Court extended this law's protection to employees significantly impaired by infectious diseases.

The School Board desires to promote the health of district students and staff in order to reduce absenteeism and enhance employee and student performance. The Superintendent or designee shall develop strategies to prevent the outbreak or spread of infectious diseases at district schools.

Note: Kashunamiut School District will not close school unless directed by the Governor or Commissioner of Education.

or

Note: Kashunamiut School District will maintain school operations unless directed otherwise by the Governor or Commissioner of Education.

(cf. 4112.4/4212.4/4312.4 – Health Examinations)

(cf. 5113 - Absences and Excuses)

An infectious disease is one that is caused by a microorganism and is potentially transmittable to another individual, whether through airborne transmission, bloodborne transmission, skin-to-skin contact, foodborne transmission, or other casual or non casual means. A communicable infectious disease, such as influenza or chicken pox, is contagious and can be readily transmitted by infectious bacteria or viral organisms.

To the extent required by law, job applicants shall be required to provide evidence that they are free of tuberculosis or any other communicable infectious disease prior to beginning employment.

(cf 4112.4/4212.4/4312.4 - Health Examinations)

To prevent the outbreak or spread of infectious diseases, the Superintendent or designee may provide infection prevention supplies and information to employees, including information about recommended vaccinations. Employees also shall observe universal precautions to avoid contact with potentially infectious blood or other bodily fluids.

(cf. 4119.42/4219.42/4319.42 - Exposure Control Plan for Bloodborne Pathogens)

(cf. 4119.43/4219.43/4319.43 - Universal Precautions)

(cf. 4131 - Staff Development)

(cf. 4231/4331 - Staff Development)

Plans for addressing a communicable infectious disease outbreak, including, but not limited to, plans for addressing employee shortages during such an outbreak, shall be included in the district's emergency preparedness plan.

(cf. 6114 - Emergencies and Disaster Preparedness Plan)
(cf. 5112.2 - Exclusions from Attendance)
(cf. 5141.22 - Infectious Diseases)
(cf. 5141.31 - Immunizations)

Nondiscrimination/Reasonable Accommodation

The district shall not discriminate against any employee or job applicant who has an infectious disease and is a qualifying individual with a disability under the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act, or Alaska's Nondiscrimination in Employment Act.

Upon request, any qualified person with a disability shall be provided reasonable accommodation to perform the essential duties of his/her position in accordance with the criteria and processes described by law.

(cf 4030 - Nondiscrimination in Employment)

The Center for Disease Control guidelines on AIDS/HIV state that the risk of HIV transmission is not posed by the kind of nonsexual, person-to-person contact generally occurring in workplaces other than those where body fluids may be exchanged, such as the workplace of a health care worker.

Decisions regarding reasonable accommodation of employees with infectious diseases should be made in consultation with one or more medical doctors, including the employee's physician, and with legal counsel. When the district's medical expert, the employee's treating physician and the district's legal counsel do not agree as to what accommodation is reasonable, the Superintendent and/or designee may convene a medical review panel consisting of a public health physician with expertise in infectious disease, the employee's treating physician, the employee and/or employee's representative, and the Superintendent and/or designee. All determinations regarding reasonable accommodation should be reviewed by legal counsel.

Confidentiality

The Board and the Superintendent and/or designee shall ensure that employee rights to confidentiality are strictly observed. The district shall disclose medical record information only to the extent required or permitted by law. The medical records of any employee with a disabling infectious disease shall be held in strict confidence.

Re: Rate Increase for 2024

Dear Jeanne:

This is to advise you that effective January 1, 2024, the JDO hourly rates will increase from $250 to $275. The proposed rate schedule is attached. As you know, we are employed "at will" and our rates are negotiable. If there are any questions, or a wish to negotiate over the new rates, please let me know. Otherwise, the new rates will be effective for work done starting on January 1, 2024 and will be reflected on your January 2024 bill.

In the absence of unforeseen circumstances these rates are intended to be unchanged for at least one (1) year. That is from January 1, 2024 through December 31, 2024.

Our current rates have been in effect since July 2021. The new rate is a modest increase. We believe our proposed rates will continue to be highly competitive.

On behalf of all of us at JDO, I can say that it is an honor and a privilege to represent the Kashunamiut School District. It is now, and it always has been.

Sincerely,

Sarah E. Josephson
Counsel

MEMORANDUM

TO: Kashunamiut School District Board of Education

THRU: Jeanne Campbell, Superintendent

FROM: Lucienne Smith, Contracted CFO Lucienne Smith
Alaska Education & Business Services, Inc.

SUBJECT: Finance and Business

Date: October 16, 2023

I am pleased to provide you with a monthly update on our ongoing activities and progress. Here is a summary of the key developments for this month:

FY 2023 AUDIT: The audit of our financial records has been successfully completed. We are currently awaiting the draft financials, which we will thoroughly review to identify any possible corrections or improvements. This diligent review process ensures the accuracy and integrity of our financial reports.

FY 2024 BUDGET: Our expenditures remain well within budget, and we have been diligently monitoring all financial activities. As of the current month, there are no significant budget overruns or unexpected expenses to report. This fiscal responsibility reflects our commitment to ensuring the best use of the resources entrusted to us.

ERATE: We are actively collaborating with our Technology department to prepare and file Form 470. This form is a crucial step in our efforts to secure Category 2 equipment as part of the Request for Proposal (RFP) process. We are closely monitoring the window for submission and will ensure timely and accurate submission when it opens.

Q1 PAYROLL REPORTS: The first-quarter payroll reports have been completed and submitted promptly. This timely submission adheres to our compliance and reporting obligations and helps maintain the transparency and accuracy of our financial records.

Q1 GRANT REIMBURSEMENTS: Our efforts to process Q1 Grant reimbursements are on track. By promptly processing these reimbursements, we are ensuring that our cash flow remains stable and that we can continue to support our educational programs and initiatives without disruption. This will also allow us to meet our obligations and make the most of the grants received.

Please feel free to ask questions or if you need additional information I will be happy to provide same.
