

Family Engagement Month Toolkit

Family engagement means families actively collaborate with early learning programs to support their children's development, learning and overall well-being. Strong, positive relationships between families and program staff are the foundation for meaningful engagement and a shared commitment to early learning success.

Why Family Partnership Matters

Family involvement makes a big difference! Here's how:

- Boosts learning: Children do better in school when families are involved.
- Strengthens communication: Open communication with teachers helps everyone focus on school readiness.
- Builds confidence: When children see their families engaged, they feel supported and ready to learn.
- Encourages wellness: Working together nurtures and promotes children's overall health.

Family Engagement Pledge

As my child's first and most important teacher, I pledge to:

- Communicate openly with my child's teachers and caregivers.
- Support learning at home by reading, exploring and asking questions.
- Encourage curiosity and celebrate my child's efforts and progress.
- Participate in school and community events that support my child's learning growth.
- Model respect, kindness and a love of learning every day.
- Partner with educators to set goals and work as a team for my child's success.
- Stay informed and involved in decisions.

Promoting Family Engagement at the Coalition

Family engagement is a critical component of high-quality learning. When families are actively involved, children experience better developmental outcomes, stronger relationships with educators and smoother transitions to early education and school.

Here are effective strategies that Early Learning Coalitions can use to foster meaningful partnerships with families.

Build Trusting Relationships

- Create a Welcoming Environment: Greet families warmly and ensure staff are trained to meet their needs.
- Communicate Consistently: Offer regular updates on early learning programs through newsletters, texts or parent apps and communicate in families' preferred languages, when possible.
- Celebrate Families: Post banners or signs celebrating families throughout your facility. Display pictures of your staff's families.

Empower Families as Partners in Learning

- Share Information: Show parents how to sign up for Parents' Pages and how to get to the parent section on the Division of Early Learning website.
- Teach Home Learning: Share simple activities parents can do at home to support classroom goals. Explain the importance of parents as their child's first teacher.
- Offer Workshops: Offer family-friendly sessions on child development, behavior regulation and literacy building.

Give Families a Voice

- Ask for Feedback: Invite families to complete a survey to share their experience after contacting your office.
- Parent Volunteer: Establish volunteer opportunities for parents to contribute ideas and feedback on outreach events and activities to foster a sense of ownership and community.

Celebrate Traditions & Community

- Host Seasonal Events: Honor family traditions with potlucks and story times.
- Connect with Community: Partner with local organizations to bring additional resources and services to families.

Encourage Providers

- Encourage Provider Engagement: Host a local competition and encourage providers to submit examples of engagement activities.
- Recognize Providers: Feature one provider each week in a newsletter or on social media to celebrate their impact.

Promoting Family Engagement in Early Learning Programs

Family engagement plays a vital role in high-quality early learning. When families are actively involved, children experience deeper connections with educators and smoother transitions into school settings.

Here are effective strategies that early learning providers can use to build and foster genuine partnerships with families:

Build Trusting Relationships with Families:

Create a Welcoming Atmosphere

- Greet families with warmth and genuine enthusiasm.
- Maintain an open-door policy to show that their input and concerns are valued.

Communicate Consistently

- Share weekly newsletters featuring upcoming events, parenting tips and ways to get involved.
- Ensure communication is accessible by using families' preferred languages when possible.

Celebrate Family Connections

- Display banners and signage throughout your facility that honor and celebrate families.
- Showcase family-centered activities on social media and distribute flyers focused on child development.

Host Family Fun Nights

- Plan themed evenings with games, crafts or movies to foster connection and joy.

Empower Families as Partners in Learning:

Encourage Volunteer Involvement

- Use your website and social media platforms to spotlight family events and share stories that highlight meaningful involvement.

Provide Flexible & Responsive Support

- Offer evening or weekend events to accommodate different work and life schedules.
