13. MEXEM GROUP COOKIE POLICY

13.1 What Are Cookies and Web Beacons?

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website. They help store information about your session and preferences, enabling the site to function efficiently and enhance your user experience.

Web beacons (also known as pixel tags) are tiny transparent images embedded in emails or websites that allow us to collect limited information, such as whether a message was opened or a page was viewed.

Cookies and web beacons may collect data including your device type, browser, IP address, general location, pages visited, time spent on the site, and referral sources.

13.2 How We Use Cookies and Web Beacons

We use cookies and web beacons to improve the functionality, performance, and security of our website, and to better understand how users interact with our content.

Cookies and similar technologies are used across all websites operated by MEXEM LTD, including www.mexem.com, www.inter-il.com, www.c2gateway.com, and trade.collective2.eu. These technologies help enhance your browsing experience, analyze site traffic, and support the delivery of targeted advertising. By using any of our websites, you consent to the use of cookies in accordance with this Policy:

- a) Strictly necessary cookies – to enable core site functionality such as security, authentication, and network management.
- b) Performance cookies – to collect anonymous data about how visitors use our website, so we can improve its performance and usability.
- c) Functional cookies – to remember your preferences and enhance your browsing experience.

MEXEM

- d) Marketing and targeting cookies – to deliver relevant advertising or content based on your browsing behavior.

Certain cookies may be set by trusted third-party service providers, such as analytics and marketing platforms.

Additionally, third-party tools embedded in our website — including the trading portal hosted by Interactive Brokers — may place cookies when used. Please refer to their privacy and cookie policies for further details.

You can manage your cookie preferences through the cookie banner presented when you visit our website, or by adjusting your browser settings.

13.3 Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for the basic operation of our website and cannot be disabled through our cookie settings. They are typically set in response to actions taken by you, such as logging in, setting privacy preferences, or completing forms.

You can configure your browser to block or alert you about these cookies; however, doing so may impair some parts of the site and prevent it from functioning properly.

Strictly necessary cookies do not collect information that identifies you directly. However, they may store technical data required for secure access and core functionality.

13.4 Performance Cookies and Web Beacons

These cookies and web beacons help us understand how visitors interact with our website by collecting and reporting information on usage patterns. They allow us to count visits, analyze traffic sources, and identify which pages are most and least popular — enabling us to improve site performance and user experience.

The data collected is aggregated and does not directly identify individuals. However, some usage information (such as IP addresses) may constitute personal data under applicable data protection laws.

We use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google LLC. Google Analytics uses cookies to gather statistical information about how visitors use our site. This information may include your IP address, browser type, device information, and browsing behavior. It is transmitted to and stored by Google on servers that may be located outside the EEA, including in the United States.

MEXEM

We have implemented appropriate safeguards for such transfers, including Standard Contractual Clauses approved by the European Commission. For more information, please refer to Google's privacy policy: <https://policies.google.com/privacy>.

You may opt out of Google Analytics by using the tools provided in our cookie consent manager or via Google's browser add-on: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

13.5 Functional Cookies

Functional cookies allow the website to offer enhanced features and personalized content, such as remembering your preferences or enabling interactive tools. These cookies may be set by us or by third-party service providers whose functionalities are integrated into our website (e.g. support chat, language settings, or embedded media).

If you disable these cookies, certain website features may not function as intended, and your user experience may be limited.

13.6 Marketing and Targeting Cookies

Marketing and targeting cookies (and related web beacons) may be set by us or by third-party advertising partners to build a profile of your interests and deliver relevant advertisements across websites.

These cookies typically identify your browser and device and may track your browsing activity over time and across different websites. While they do not store directly identifiable personal information such as your name or contact details, the data they collect may be used to create behavioral user profiles — which can be considered personal data under applicable data protection laws.

If you disable these cookies, you will still see advertisements, but they may be less relevant to your interests.

Our website does not currently respond to browser "Do Not Track" (DNT) signals, as there is no universally accepted standard for honoring such signals.

You can manage your consent preferences for these cookies using the cookie banner on our site or by adjusting your browser settings.

14. INTERNATIONAL TRANSFERS OF PERSONAL DATA
