“It has been an absolute privilege to support the team delivering Season. It has been more than a game for us; it's a labor of love that stretched over a few years and several continents, bringing incredible talents together. We want to deliver an experience that speaks to you as it spoke to us, and we hope we manage to achieve that.” - Margherita Seconnino, Producer

In Season: A letter to the future, you play as a young woman from a secluded village exploring the world by bike for the first time, collecting memories before a cataclysm washes everything away. Season is a quest to discover a new world; one unknown yet familiar. Document, photograph, and record life as you find it, while you still can.

The gameplay of Season: A letter to the future focuses on exploring, recording, meeting others, and unraveling the strange world around you. At any point, you can hop off your bike and equip a recording tool from your bag. Each captures a different element; sounds and music, art and architecture, voices of old people, vanishing religious practices, the traces of seasons long past. Your tools help you examine the world more closely until you're able to grasp the culture, history, and ecology underneath everything.

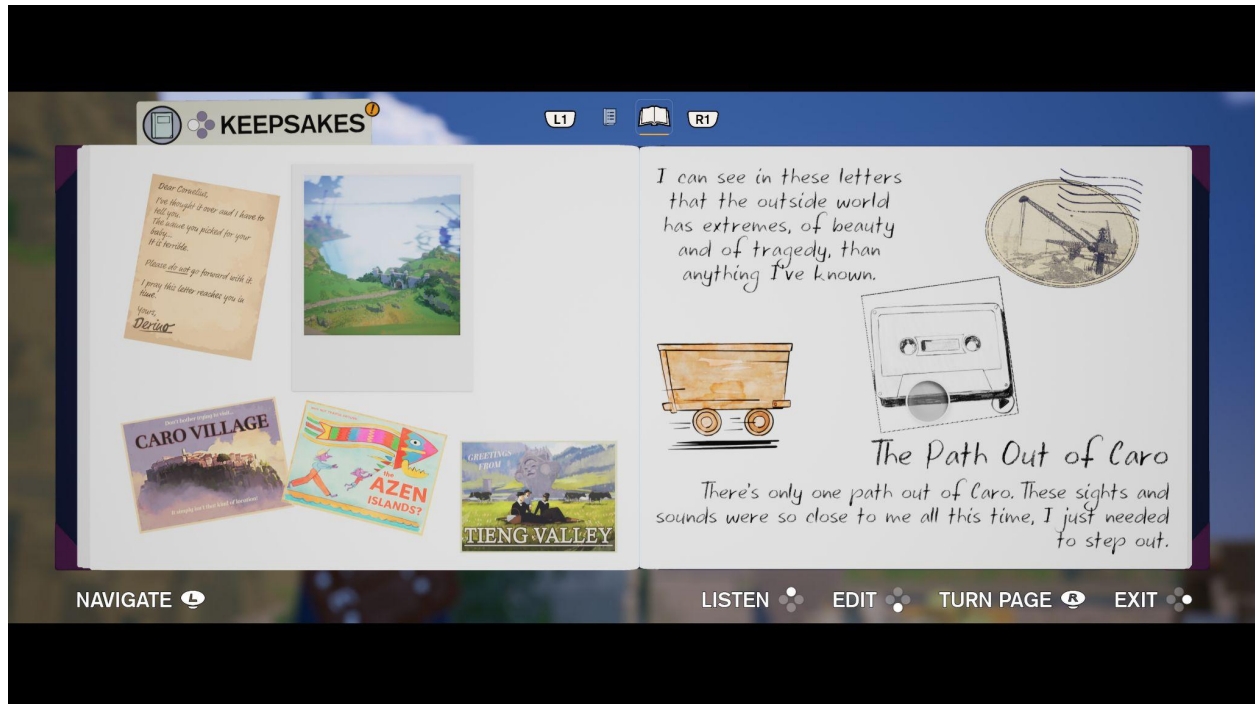

Gameplay Features:

- A bicycle road trip: Wind your way through stunning landscapes on your bicycle.
- Explore a mysterious world: Meet a diverse cast of characters along your way, who will change the course of your story.
- Document, photograph, and record: Collect memories, make recordings, and discover the secrets of the world of Season before it ends.

PlayStation 5 Features:

- Adaptive Triggers: Using the triggers to pedal your bicycle, the resistance will vary depending on your speed and the steepness of the road.
- Haptic Feedback: Feel the texture of the ground change as you cycle over different terrain with the DualSense wireless controller's haptic feedback.

- Tempest 3D AudioTech: Traverse the world's lush soundscapes and record them with defined, dimensional precision.
- Faster Loading Times: Leave home without delay – near-instant loading via the PS5 system's SSD sends you on a bicycle trip into a mysterious new world.

Season: A letter to the future will be available digitally on Steam and Epic Games Store for $24.99 USD and PlayStation 5 and PlayStation 4 for $29.99 USD on January 31, 2023.
