WINEMAKING & VINEYARD

Organic. 100% Sangiovese from a single vineyard on Mt. Torrens. 100% whole-cluster ferment in stainless steel via carbonic maceration; no pigeage/pumpover, what winemaker Mark Warner calls “fruit locked down for a week, zero forced extraction.” Fruit was pressed off gently back into stainless, then racked off gross lees for bottling after around six months. Unfined, unfiltered, zero SO2. Finished wine at only 10.8% alcohol! This is the last iteration of the Mt. Torrens Sangiovese that these guys will make, as “the vines are no longer with us.” But team Borachio is a big fan of Sangiovese, so they’re hoping they’ll find another good source to produce one of these lovely reds again.
