

DUKLEY SEAFRONT REOPENS WITH A REFINED MEDITERRANEAN IDENTITY

Budva, Montenegro – On April 1, Dukley Seafront Restaurant reopens for the new season with a clearly defined culinary direction and a renewed positioning as one of the most distinctive dining addresses on the Budva Riviera.

Set directly above the Adriatic and framed by floor-to-ceiling glass, the restaurant offers a dining experience shaped as much by its surroundings as by its cuisine. The changing light over the water, the proximity of the sea and the panoramic view of the Riviera create an atmosphere that evolves throughout the day, giving each visit a natural sense of occasion without theatricality.

This season, Dukley Seafront introduces a more focused concept built around a confident Mediterranean foundation and a pronounced emphasis on Steak & Lobster. Seafood remains central to the identity of the kitchen, with lobster presented in several interpretations and Adriatic fish prepared with precision and restraint. At the same time, the grill takes on greater importance through carefully selected premium cuts, including dry-aged Black Angus and Japanese Wagyu, reinforcing the balance between sea and land that defines the restaurant's direction.

The menu is designed to highlight clarity of flavour and quality of sourcing. Dishes such as Shrimp Tartare, Smoked Octopus, Saint-Jacques scallops and Rossini Beef demonstrate a kitchen that values technique, structure and depth, while remaining true to Mediterranean sensibility.

Sharing options introduce a more social rhythm to the table, transforming it from a point of service into a space of connection — where stories are told, glasses are raised, and the act of dining becomes something remembered together.

From May 1, the experience extends into Dining by the Sea, an open-air setting positioned directly by the water. During the summer months, evenings unfold to the accompaniment of live music, allowing guests to experience the Riviera from a uniquely intimate vantage point, where cuisine, sound and setting align naturally.

“In a destination known for its coastline dining, Dukley Seafront commands the Riviera — its vantage point embracing the entire coastline and Old Town, its service and atmosphere setting it unmistakably apart.”

Dukley Seafront does not rely on excess. Its distinction lies in proportion, in the dialogue between cuisine and view, in service that is intuitive rather than intrusive, and in an atmosphere that feels refined without losing warmth.

The reopening on April 1 marks not a reinvention, but a confident evolution, a clearer expression of what Dukley Seafront represents on the Budva Riviera.
