

EMBER RESTAURANT IN KOLAŠIN: A NEW DUKLEY DINING DESTINATION INSPIRED BY FIRE, WARMTH AND MOUNTAIN FLAVOURS

Kolašin, Montenegro. Autumn in the mountains has a rhythm of its own: crisp mornings, woodland colours and evenings that call for warmth and good food. This autumn, Kolašin welcomes a new dining destination.

Ember, the new restaurant at Mountain Retreat by Dukley, welcomes guests from 3 October with the debut of its à la carte menu. Set amid woodland, with local ingredients and dishes cooked over fire, it begins the story of a place worth taking time to discover.

The name Ember evokes the warmth of glowing embers and the experience the restaurant seeks to offer: inviting aromas, a sense of comfort and the pleasure of gathering around a table. This idea connects the kitchen and the setting, bringing the intimacy of a mountain home to the whole experience.

The menu reflects the flavours of northern Montenegro. Kolašin cheese and kajmak, river trout, mountain honey, wild mushrooms and lamb take on a contemporary expression while remaining close to their origins. Homemade blueberry preserve, pine needle oil and smoked kajmak add layers of aroma and flavour: a hint of woodland, gentle sweetness and the richness of smoke.

Fire holds a special place in Ember's kitchen. It shapes textures, brings out flavours and gives dishes their distinctive aroma. Created for moments best shared, the Ember sharing feast brings together a selection of meats, seasonal vegetables, bread, smoked kajmak and accompaniments. Served at the centre of the table, it invites guests to taste, pass plates and linger over conversations that naturally turn a family lunch or dinner with friends into a longer occasion.

The story continues in the setting. Through panoramic windows reaching from floor to ceiling, the forest becomes part of the interior, its colours changing with the seasons. Warm wood, darker accents, greenery and spacious tables create a harmonious, relaxed atmosphere. By day, light moves across the tables, while the terrace brings guests closer to the fresh mountain air when the sun is out. In the evening, as the landscape beyond the windows grows quiet, the restaurant takes on a more intimate feel, drawing attention back to the food and the people around the table.

As part of Mountain Retreat by Dukley, Ember enriches a stay in the mountains and adds to Kolašin's appeal throughout the year. Lunch can follow a walk, dinner can round off the day, and discovering the new restaurant can inspire an entire weekend exploring the flavours of the north.

This autumn, Ember invites guests to be among the first to discover its kitchen and find their place at the table. For the aroma of food cooked over fire, a view of the forest and that moment when the air outside is crisp, yet it feels so welcoming inside that no one is quite ready to leave.
