A full-page photograph of a wedding couple walking away from the camera in a modern function room. The groom is on the left, wearing a black tuxedo with a white shirt and a black vest. The bride is on the right, wearing a long, flowing white gown with a deep V-back and a long train. They are walking on a polished wooden floor. To the left, there are several round tables set with white linens and white chairs. To the right, there is a large, elaborate floral arrangement of white and peach flowers. The ceiling is high with exposed wooden beams and many strings of warm white fairy lights. Large windows in the background offer a view of the outdoors. The overall atmosphere is elegant and modern.
