About this inventory

This inventory lists software that a legal team could use, evaluate, self-host, adapt or incorporate into a legal workflow. It separates entries by license status, indicating license-confirmed products, license-confirmed frameworks and components, public-source projects whose license could not be confirmed, publicly explorable products whose source or open-source status is unverified, and supporting infrastructure and resources.

Beyond identifying individual releases, our methodology reviewed other open source listings, including a page-by-page review of the 410 entries displayed by Legal-OSS, available vibecode.law listings, Jamie Tso's app collection, the LegalQuants community and linked repositories. All license-confirmed sections required a canonical public repository and an open-source license confirmed from that repository or its primary documentation. All counts shown are distinct product or component identities (not mentions or repository appearances).

How to read the inventory tables

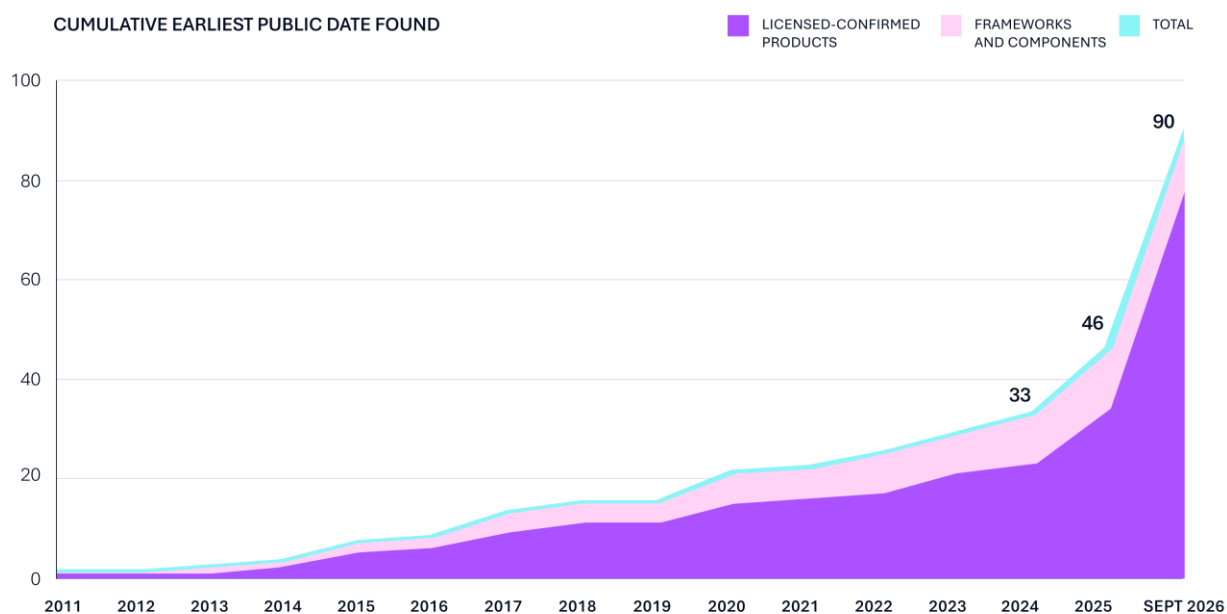

- First public date is the earliest verifiable public launch, release, canonical repository creation or dated showcase listing found for the named product. It is not necessarily the first production-ready release.
- Product type distinguishes end-user platforms, web and desktop apps and add-ins from prototypes, skill or prompt packs and developer components.
- Category tag(s) use Draftable's internal legal-tech landscape taxonomy, set out in the category legend at the end of this document. Multiple tags are used where deemed appropriate.
- License is the license confirmed at repository level on the review date. Repository-level confirmation does not resolve every dependency, model, dataset, content or optional component.
- Verification note and date basis record what was checked and which evidence supplied the date, so readers can apply further diligence to the information provided.

Last updated: 11 September 2026. Repositories, licenses and product status can change quickly, so refresh the details before relying on them.

Inventory analysis in brief

Growth over time

Cumulative count of license-confirmed products and frameworks or components by earliest public date found. Ninety entries are license-confirmed; 33 had appeared by the end of 2024, 46 by the end of 2025, and 90 by 11 September 2026. Fifty-seven of the 90, or 63 percent, first appeared in 2025 or 2026.

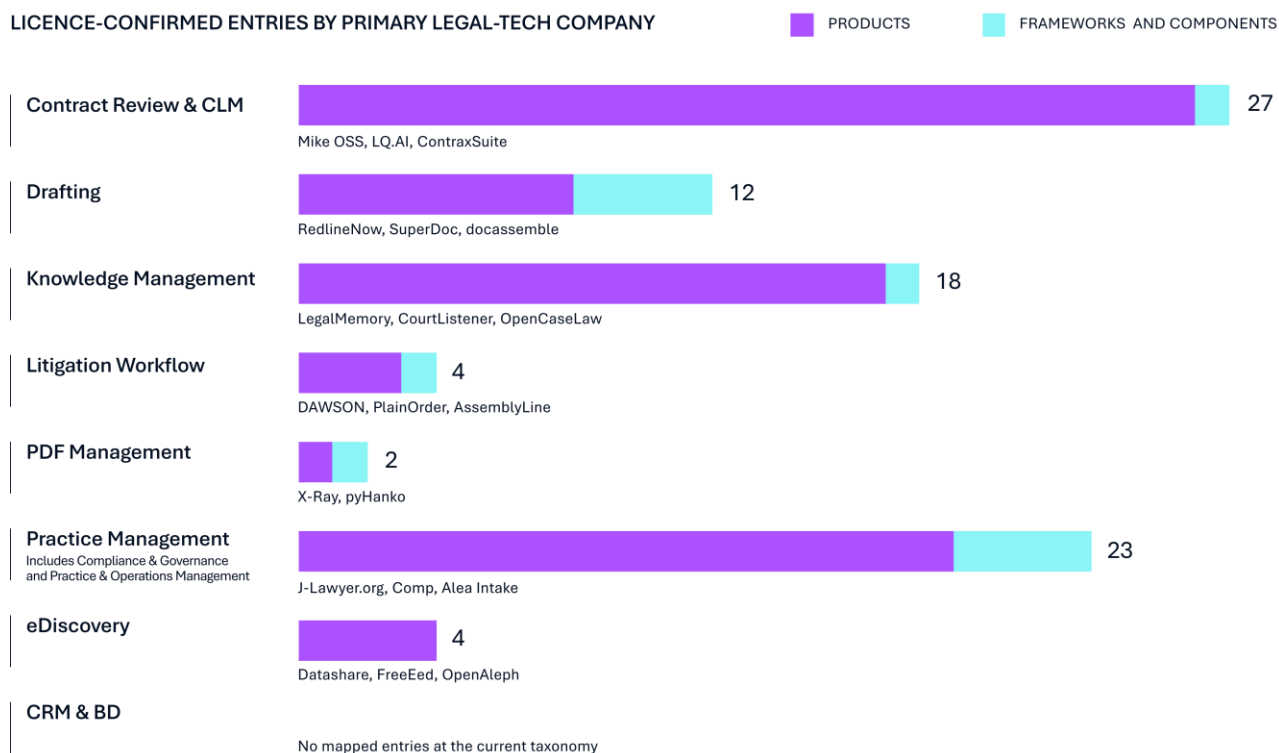

A formal launch date was used where available; otherwise the canonical repository creation date is a proxy. The sources reviewed favour active and current projects, so older projects may be underrepresented. 2026 is year to 11 September. The chart shows earliest public dates found, not production readiness, capability, adoption or maintenance quality.

Coverage across the legal-tech landscape

The 90 license-confirmed entries arranged by primary category, using Draftable's legal-tech landscape groups. Each entry is counted once by its first listed category to avoid double counting. Practice Management includes Compliance & Governance and Practice & Operations Management.

LICENCE-CONFIRMED ENTRIES BY PRIMARY LEGAL-TECH COMPANY

Products, prototypes, skill packs and components can serve multiple categories; the full tag set for each entry is shown in the tables. CRM & BD has no mapped entries under the current taxonomy structure. This is not proof that no open-source CRM or BD products exist.

Release counts by year

Number of license-confirmed entries whose earliest public date falls in each year.

Year	License-confirmed products	Frameworks / components	Total
2011	1	0	1
2012	0	0	0
2013	0	1	1
2014	1	0	1
2015	3	1	4
2016	1	0	1
2017	3	2	5
2018	2	0	2
2019	0	0	0
2020	4	2	6
2021	1	0	1
2022	1	2	3
2023	4	0	4
2024	2	2	4
2025	11	2	13
2026	44	0	44

Discovery context only, not open-source release counts: public-source projects with license not confirmed (2024: 1; 2026: 2) and publicly explorable products with source or open-source status unverified (2026: 29; 11 with no recoverable date).

License-confirmed open-source legal products (78)

Sorted alphabetically. Every row has a canonical public repository and a license confirmed from that repository or its primary documentation as of 11 September 2026. Inclusion is not endorsement; see the notice at the front of this document for further disclaimers.

Methodology

1. Release announcements, open-source listings and other resources were collected reviewed and annotated by the Draftable team from January-September 2026.
2. Sources were then provided to an internal “Legal Tech AI agent” developed by Draftable with specific legal technology market and product knowledge for further review.
3. Draftable’s Legal Tech AI Agent then ran additional web research to identify further listings and resources for review.
4. The Legal Tech AI Agent applied Draftable’s internal product taxonomy, using multiple tags only where each fit was defensible.
5. The Agent the reviewed all 21 Legal-OSS pages and the 410 entries displayed on 11 September 2026, available vibecode.law month indexes, individual showcase pages and linked repository evidence, Jamie Tso's collection, profile, announcements and identifiable GitHub repositories and inspected LegalQuants, Mike OSS, doc.haus and the supplied e-signature resources.
6. The Agent separated end-user products, frameworks and components, public source without a confirmed license, public demos and supporting resources.
7. Finally, the Agent dated each product from an official announcement, first release, canonical repository creation date or dated showcase, in that order where a defensible source was available.

Known coverage limits

- Licenses: Repository-level license confirmation does not resolve every dependency, model, dataset, content or optional component. IPED, LQ Skills, DocuSeal, Documenso, Patron and other multi-part products need boundary-specific review.
- Fast-moving scope: Repositories, licenses, ownership and product status can change. Refresh before publication and procurement.
