CHRIST IN SCRIPTURE

A Bible reading journey for the 2027 preaching series

BEGIN 11 NOV 2026 | FINISH 25 SEPTEMBER 2027

Read the book. Hear the message. Discover Christ.

This plan takes you through all 31 Bible books listed in the Christ in Scripture (CiS) preaching series, completing each book before its Sunday message. It includes the readings for both morning and evening messages.

How to follow the plan

Read the passage beside each date and tick the box when you finish. There are no more than four chapters on any day. Sundays are left free for worship and reflection; finish the assigned reading by Saturday.

Some books begin several weeks before their sermon. Keep following the dated readings even when the current Sunday message is from another series. This advance reading makes the longer books manageable.

A dash means no new reading is assigned: catch up, revisit a passage or reflect. A week with no CiS message can still contain preparation for a later sermon.

A simple daily rhythm

Pray: "Lord Jesus, help me understand your word." Read slowly. Notice what the passage reveals about God, our need and his saving purposes. Write one observation and one response.

A note about reading length

Four chapters is a ceiling, not a time estimate. Some chapters take longer than others. Psalm 119 has a day of its own. You may divide a longer day between morning and evening.

Schedule notes

Based on the supplied planner, 3 January to 26 September 2027. Where the evening column is blank, a CiS entry in the main column is treated as the same message morning and evening. Distinct CiS evening entries are included separately. Non-CiS evening topics have no additional assigned reading. Whole-book coverage is assumed because individual sermon passages were not specified.

Includes 577 chapters across 31 books. The plan covers the CiS books in this planner, rather than the whole Bible.
