THREE MILE LIMIT

Pineapple and Toasted Macadamia Infused Diplomatico Rum, Pineapple Oleo, Lime

Complicated and punchy. This drink pays homage to an old law set by The United States Government, the 18th Amendment, prohibiting the possession, manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages. In an attempt to crack down on illegal import and export from Cuba and The Bahamas, vessels entering within 3 miles of US Shores would be shot down by cannon fire. To represent the deep history of the US prohibition we have chosen only three ingredients to go into this drink. Pineapple, Rum and Lime. But mixed in a way like no other.

23

THE MARY JANE

Aperol, Vodka, Marmalade, Egg White, Orange, Lime.

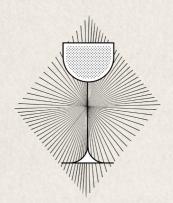

A punch in the face—followed by a flavourful, foamy cushion. The Mary Jane is a tightrope act, balancing sweet, sour, bitter, and smooth with just the right amount of flair. She's bold, complex, and just when you think she's too much—she softens the blow. Overall, she's a definite crowd-pleaser, with a little something for everyone.

23

TOYKO DRIFT

Sesame infused Gin, Miso Honey, Lemon, Sake

A quiet nod to Japan's elegance—with a streak of rebellion. Sesame-infused and richly layered, this cocktail is subtle, savory, and effortlessly cool. Smooth, balanced, and unforgettable—crafted in memory, and in justice, for Han.

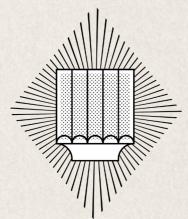

NOT BUDWEISER

Vodka, Mango, Ginger Beer, IPA Foam.

This is a far superior experience to cracking open a can of Budweiser, this drink is a rebellion in a glass. House-made mango syrup, vodka, ginger beer, and, of course, our legendary IPA Foam, makes for a refreshing kick leaving you wondering why you've ever settled for the bland stuff. This drink doesn't ask for permission, it just delivers.

24

GEORGE REMUS

Buffalo Trace Bourbon, Apple Juice, Punch Olivette, Honey, Bitters.

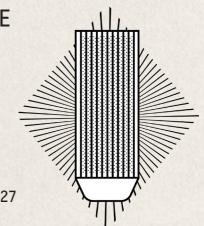

George Remus, dubbed the "King of the Bootleggers," turned Prohibition into a lucrative business by exploiting a loophole in the Volstead Act that allowed medicinal whiskey to be legally sold. He bought up distilleries full of untapped whiskey and pharmacies to distribute it. With a mix of savvy business moves and bribed federal officials, Remus ensured that vast amounts of whiskey flowed from his stockpiles into the public. In just a few short years, he built an empire and became the inspiration for Jay Gatsby in F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby.

PASSWORD UNDER THE TABLE

El Jimador Tequila, Cointreau, Fermented Strawberry, Lemon, Prosecco

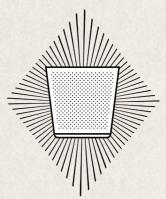

> "In a time of hush and quiet speak, I'm the cover you subtly seek. Ask for me, but don't be loud, A secret tome, I'm not for the crowd. What am I?"

PROMISCUOUS BEHAVIOUR

Firehouse 51 Gin, Chambord, Punch A' La Olivette, Dr. Adam Elmegirab Aphrodite Bitters

Love is a four letter word, mirrors the societal shift of the Roaring Twenties. Breaking free from archaic norms, it represents the era's sexual revolution. What was once exclusive to single males found a more balanced expression across genders. The boundaries melted away, allowing the pursuit of pleasure to transcend societal norms. This shift, spurred by the cinematic rise and accessible automobiles, allowed private exploration and embraced newfound freedoms. Cheers to the liberation of love, a tale told in every sip.

25

ARTHUR AVENUE

Triple Infused Basil Vodka, Cointreau, Cranberry, Punch A' La Olivette, Lime.

A blushing beauty. Note the smoky basil aromas as you sip this Italian come NYC inspired drink. Delightfully herbaceous and too easy to drink, don't be fooled by the beautiful blend of flavours as this tipple is extremely potent. We sweeten this drink with our in-house A Lá Olivette syrup which is made from the finest lemon skin and left to bathe in its own oils for 24 hours. Cent'anni!

Henry's Whisper

Woodford Bourbon, Creme De Cacoa, Creme De Menthe

They say he never left the table. A cool hush of mint, dark chocolate's final whisper, and a silky spirit base that lingers like a secret. Smooth. Haunting. Unapologetically indulgent.

COME HITHER

Cognac, Chocolate Bitters, Chai Butter Syrup, Oat Milk, White Chocolate and Barley Foam.

Rich buttery chai goodness... so good that we have to keep our homemade butter syrup locked In the vault and CCTV active at all times! Excessive consumption may lead to seductive behaviour, inflammatory comments and ultimately, deportation.

The perfect curtain call cocktail.
