

EXHIBIT 1

By providing this notice, TruView does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On March 4, 2026, TruView confirmed that a cybercriminal may have accessed personal information within TruView's environment between July 18, 2024, and August 15, 2024. Upon becoming aware of the unauthorized activity, TruView took immediate action, including notifying law enforcement and working with third-party cybersecurity specialists to conduct a forensic investigation to determine the scope and nature of the incident. As part of its response to this matter, TruView conducted a comprehensive review of the impacted files to determine what information was affected and to whom the information related. The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, Social Security number, and driver's license number.

Notice to Maine Residents

On April 8, 2026, TruView provided written notice of this incident to fifteen (15) Maine residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, TruView moved quickly to investigate, assess the security of its systems, notify law enforcement, and identify potentially affected individuals. TruView is providing individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident with access to credit monitoring services for one (1) year, through CyberScout, a TransUnion company, at no cost to the individuals.

Additionally, TruView is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud. TruView is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

TruView is providing written notice of this incident to relevant state regulators, as necessary, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion.

Dear _____ :

TruView BSI, LLC (“TruView”) is writing to notify you of an incident that may involve your personal information. This letter provides details of the incident, our response, and steps you may take to help protect against the possible misuse of your information should you feel it’s appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On March 4, 2026, TruView confirmed that a cybercriminal may have accessed personal information within TruView’s environment between July 18, 2024, and August 15, 2024. Upon becoming aware of the unauthorized activity, TruView took immediate action, including notifying law enforcement and working with third-party cybersecurity specialists to conduct a forensic investigation to determine the scope and nature of the incident. As part of its response to this matter, TruView conducted a comprehensive review of the impacted files to determine what information was affected and to whom the information related. After determining personal information was involved, TruView is taking steps to notify you about this event.

What Information Was Involved? The information potentially involved includes your name and the following:

What We Are Doing. TruView takes the confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in its care very seriously. As part of its response, TruView moved to close off its environment, investigate the incident and notify law enforcement. Working with third-party specialists, TruView implemented additional cybersecurity measures related to data privacy and security to strengthen the network environment.

After monitoring, TruView is unaware of any actual or attempted identify fraud or theft as a result of this incident, but as an added precaution, TruView is providing you with access to Single Bureau Credit Monitoring/ Single Bureau Credit Report/ Single Bureau Credit Score services at no charge. These services provide you with alerts for 12 months from the date of enrollment if changes occur to your credit file. A notification is sent to you the same day that the change or update takes place with the bureau. Finally, we are providing you with proactive fraud assistance to help with any questions that you might have. These services will be provided by Cyberscout, a TransUnion company specializing in fraud assistance and remediation services. Information on these services and instructions on how to activate them may be found in the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Protect Your Personal Information.

What You Can Do. TruView encourages you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and explanation of benefits and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors over the next 12 to 24 months. You can also enroll in the complementary services being offered.

For More Information. We understand you may have questions about the incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have questions, please call 833-319-7356 Monday through Friday from 8:00 am to 8:00 pm EST, excluding holidays. ### Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; (202) 442-9828; and oag.dc.gov.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504\_cfpb\_summary\_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.
