

DentaQuest recently experienced a cybersecurity incident

DentaQuest is actively managing a cybersecurity incident involving unauthorized access to a limited portion of our network.

Upon discovery of the initial incident, we took immediate action to secure our environment, contain the attack and mitigate the threat.

Our systems remain fully operational, and we continue to serve our clients with limited disruption.

Our team is working with a leading cybersecurity expert, forensic investigators and law enforcement authorities.

We are working as quickly and carefully as possible to determine the exact scope of the incident, including the nature and extent of any data that may have been compromised.

We will continue to provide updates to clients and ensure they receive information relevant to their organization as quickly and transparently as possible.

Our clients trust us with important information, and we take that responsibility seriously. We are deeply committed to preserving the trust and confidence placed in us every day.
