

America's Black Forum Episode Synopsis

Episode Number: 26-07
Week of May 11, 2026

This week on America's Black Forum:

Chattahoochee Hills Charter School

The number of Black Farmers has been on the decline for years. But there's a school near Atlanta that is working hard to reverse that trend. Situated on 11-acres, Chattahoochee Hills Charter School, run by Patrick Muhammad, is inspiring young people to have a better appreciation for the land. Students are given hands-on experience so they can gain a better understanding of agriculture and the importance of sustainability.

SOOFA Ranch

It's not your traditional doctor's office nor a couch in the therapist's room. But healing is happening – in the open fields of Winston, Georgia where horses lead the way. They're part of a powerful mental health movement where lives have been radically changed. Daryl Fletcher runs SOOFA Ranch. The name SOOFA stands for Stretch Out on Faith Again, and that's exactly what many do when they come here.

Brown Sugar Bakery

Brown Sugar Bakery has been a staple in Chicago's Grand Crossing community for more than 20 years. Owner, Stephanie Hart is now taking her success to the next level with the opening of a location at Chicago's O'Hare Airport and the opening of a chocolate factory. With this latest purchase, Stephanie Hart now has the only Black woman owned chocolate manufacturing company in the country.
