check

Hold the slider body and cycle it on the chain to confirm the zipper opens and closes properly.

Check if the slider is compatible with the replaceable puller.

remove

Remove the original, damaged slider from the zipper

assemble

Position the puller perpendicular to the slider and align the notches on the slider crown with the entry point for the channel on the puller.

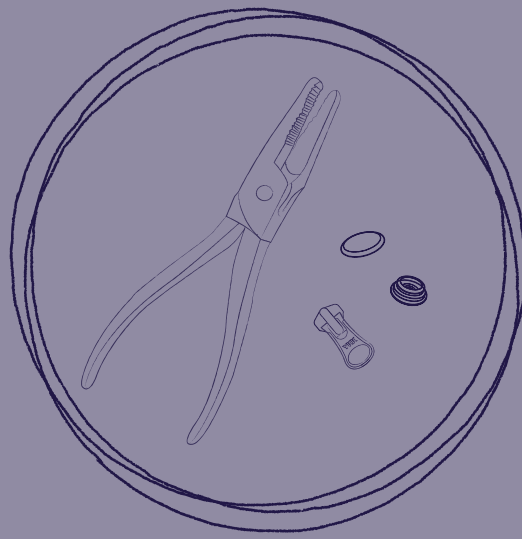

Push the puller onto the slider crown until it stops.

Then apply force until the slider crown notches pass over the rubber stopper.

Pull on the puller to confirm it will not release from the slider body.
