■ Description:

The X-STRESS 2141G is built for fast, high-dexterity work where grip and control are essential. Its 15-gauge nylon/spandex shell delivers a light, flexible fit that keeps hands agile during repetitive tasks. The micro-foam nitrile palm, enhanced with nitrile grip dots, boosts traction on small parts, tools, and packaging materials. Touchscreen-ready fingertips let workers use scanners, tablets, and phones without removing the glove, keeping workflow efficient. With its breathable, precision-focused design, the X-STRESS 2141G is ideal for assembly, warehouse operations, and other environments that demand all-day dexterity and grip.
