Short Description of Organization

Unite Us is the leading technology platform connecting health, human, and social care providers so people can get help across sectors — like housing, food, and behavioral health — through a coordinated referral network, rather than being handed off between disconnected systems. Its closed-loop referral system lets providers track whether someone actually received the help they were referred to, and gives government and health partners the data to see gaps, measure outcomes, and direct funding more effectively.

Short Bio

Alice Steiner is a Policy Director at Unite Us, where she leads policy strategy and government engagement efforts to advance community-centered solutions addressing social determinants of health in the Western U.S. With more than a decade of experience in health policy, legislative affairs, and advocacy, she has worked extensively with policymakers, healthcare providers, and community organizations to advance health equity and systems change. Prior to Unite Us, Alice led policy and advocacy initiatives for the Colorado Community Health Network and has been recognized nationally for her leadership in community health policy.
