About Nimble

Nimble, a Swoop company, enables people to live their best lives by improving access, understanding, and management of their healthcare. The technology helps independent and regional pharmacies deliver the best possible care to their communities by modernizing pharmacy workflows. It simplifies everything from mobile checkout and prescription fills/refills to patient communications. By dismantling the barriers to consistent care, Nimble's digital interventions drive significant impact, improving medication adherence by 26-40 percent while freeing pharmacists from busy work so they can spend more time on patient care.

As part of Swoop's privacy-by-design approach, Nimble's prescription fulfillment data integrates into an exclusive commercial intelligence layer. These signals enable life sciences companies to accelerate therapy adoption, support long-term adherence, and drive measurable impact across the treatment lifecycle.
