

How You Can Support
Maui Wildfire Victims

By now, most of you have heard of the unprecedented wildfires in Hawaii, and specifically, the wildfire that has decimated the town of Lahaina on Maui.

Of the five stores we have in Hawaii, four are located on the island of Oahu, and one—Island Honda—is located in Kahului, Maui. While Island Honda has not been damaged by the wildfires, we are sad to report that some employees' homes have been directly affected.

We are currently in touch with store leaders in the area and are staying nimble in how we can best support and respond to ongoing challenges and needs.

What You Can Do to Help

Many of you are asking how you can help. Below are two reputable charities that are working, as we speak, to provide immediate assistance to victims.

If you'd like to support these efforts, please feel free to contact these nonprofits:

HAWAIʻI COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Maui Strong Fund—
Hawaii Community Foundation

The Maui Strong Fund is providing resources that can be deployed quickly, with a focus on rapid response and recovery for the devastating wildfires that are still taking place on Maui.
