

34 BLOOMSBURY

THE HOUSE

Welcome to 34 Bloomsbury.

A Georgian townhouse in the heart of central London, designed for weddings that feel personal, atmospheric and entirely your own.

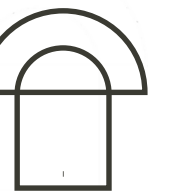

Originally built in the 1850s and lovingly restored, 34B combines elegant contemporary interiors with the rich character and soul of its heritage. Set across four rooms and a private urban garden, the house was created for modern celebrations, the kind that feel immersive, relaxed and unforgettable from beginning to end.

Unlike traditional wedding venues, the house flows naturally from room to room, allowing your day to unfold more like an incredible celebration at a beautiful home than a formal production.

Relaxed yet elevated.

Stylish yet warm.

Intimate whilst still full of atmosphere.

THE FEELING

Your wedding should feel like the best version of you... your people, your style, your energy and the moments you'll still talk about years later.

The long-table dinner glowing by candlelight.
Cocktails flowing in the garden at golden hour.
Music drifting through the house.
The dance floor getting fuller as the night goes on.
Guests discovering beautiful moments around every corner.

That's exactly what 34B was built for.

Whether you envision a fashion-forward city wedding, an intimate editorial-style dinner, a modern multi-space celebration or a relaxed house party filled with incredible food, music and atmosphere, 34 Bloomsbury becomes the backdrop to a wedding that feels unmistakably yours.

THE STORY

We don't believe weddings should feel over-scripted or formulaic.

We believe they should feel joyful, effortless and deeply personal.

34 Bloomsbury offers the rare feeling of hosting your wedding in your own private London townhouse – a space where every room becomes part of the story, and every celebration feels completely unique to the people inside it.

Our house is your house.

And for one unforgettable day, it becomes part of your story.

THE FREEDOM

Your Wedding, Your Way

Choosing a dry hire wedding venue gives you the freedom to create a celebration that feels entirely your own and at 34 Bloomsbury, the house becomes yours for the day.

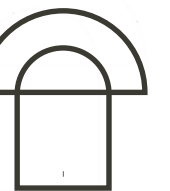

With exclusive access to the townhouse and private garden, you have the flexibility to shape every moment around your vision. From intimate ceremonies and candlelit dinners to stylish receptions and full-house celebrations that flow effortlessly from day into evening, 34B is designed to adapt around you.

No rigid packages.

No one-size-fits-all weddings.

Just a beautiful space with endless possibilities.

Whether you're dreaming of modern editorial styling, romantic florals, live music, incredible food or a late-night dance floor, the house provides the perfect backdrop to make it happen.
