Educational Accommodation Info

In order to achieve success in the program, it is recommended that students note special needs and/or limitations on their application with a doctor or therapist's note, so that the RSA faculty can work with you to achieve appropriate educational accommodations. You can be assured that your needs will be treated with respect and confidentiality.

The physical and mental demands of classroom and performance work should not be underestimated. Experience demonstrates that applicants who inform of RSA of their needs up-front, generally experience fewer difficulties leading to improved outcomes in their studies.

When students with disabilities make requests for accommodation, RSA will explore options to meet the requests while maintaining the integrity of the training.
