HOME HEALTH CARE

Same Mission. More Care.

As the only community-based nonprofit hospice organization, we have spent over three decades dedicated to affirming life amid illness and grief, always honoring what matters most to our patients and their families.

Good Samaritan Home Health brings the same mission but more care, providing comprehensive medical services, skilled nursing, therapy, and personal support tailored to your unique needs, all delivered with the warmth and dedication you've come to trust.

Home Health Services

Our compassionate team of nurses and therapists takes the time to get to know you—all of you—so they can better understand your recovery goals, your overall health goals, and even your life goals. They personalize their care to ensure you get the treatment, education, and support you need to live more fully and independently. The same trusted care, now earlier in the journey to healing and independence.

Skilled Nursing:

Our team of Registered Nurses (RN) and Licensed Practical Nurses (LPN) provides a wide range of nursing services, including medication management, wound care, vitals tracking, infusion and feeding tube sites, disease process management, and medical education.

Occupational Therapy:

Our team of OTs help you to regain your independence in daily living activities such as bathing, dressing, toileting, and preparing meals through specific techniques and exercises.

Physical Therapy:

Our team of PT and PTAs creates personalized plans using a variety of treatment techniques, such as balance and gait control. They also provide education, help prevent falls, and assist with other physical therapy needs.

Speech Therapy:

Our team of Speech-Language Pathologists provides treatment and care for patients who have difficulty communicating or eating, drinking, and swallowing.

Social Worker:

Home health social workers provide emotional support, coordinate care, and connect patients and families with essential community resources.
