

Cosive Website Terms of Use

Last Updated: 06 August 2026

Welcome to Cosive. These Website Terms of Use ("Terms") govern your access to and use of the website located at www.cosive.com, including any subdomains, associated sites, and web portals operated under the cosive.com domain (collectively referred to as the "Website"), operated by Cosive Pty Ltd and its subsidiaries, including Cosive New Zealand Limited ("Cosive," "we," "us," or "our").

By accessing or using our Website, you agree to be bound by these Terms. If you do not agree with any part of these Terms, you must not use our Website.

1. Privacy and Data Protection (GDPR & Local Law Alignment)

Your privacy is important to us. These Terms govern your use of the Website, while our Privacy Policy outlines how we collect, process, and protect your personal data in compliance with the Australian Privacy Act 1988, the New Zealand Privacy Act 2020, and the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

- Consent is Unbundled: Your agreement to these Terms of Use does not constitute consent to the processing of your personal data for non-essential purposes (such as marketing or analytics). Where explicit consent is required for data processing or the use of non-essential cookies, it will be requested separately via our cookie consent banner and relevant opt-in forms.
- Please review our Privacy Policy to understand your data rights and our practices.

2. Acceptable Use

As a globally recognised leader in Cyber Threat Intelligence and Security Operations, we take the security of our own infrastructure seriously. You agree to use the Website only for lawful purposes. You must not:

- Use the Website in any way that breaches any applicable local, national, or international law or regulation.
- Attempt to gain unauthorised access to, interfere with, damage, or disrupt any part of our Website, the servers on which our Website is stored, or any database connected to our Website.
- Conduct unauthorised vulnerability scanning, penetration testing, or similar security assessments on our Website without prior written, explicit permission from Cosive.
- Use any robot, spider, scraper, or other automated means to access the Website or extract data (scraping) for any purpose.
- Introduce any viruses, trojans, worms, logic bombs, or other material that is malicious or technologically harmful.

3. Intellectual Property Rights

All content published on this Website—including text, graphics, logos, insights, blog posts, podcasts, audio/video media, MISP guides, methodologies, and software—is the intellectual property of Cosive or its licensors.

- You may view, download for caching purposes only, and print pages or resources from the Website for your own personal or internal business use.
- You must not republish, sell, rent, reproduce, duplicate, or copy material (including distributing our podcast audio files outside of standard podcast listening apps) from this Website for commercial purposes without our express written consent.

4. Disclaimers and No Professional Advice

The information provided on this Website (including our blog, newsroom, podcasts, and resource center) is for general informational purposes only.

- While we strive to keep information accurate and up to date, the rapidly evolving nature of cybersecurity means we make no representations or warranties of any kind, express or implied, about the completeness, accuracy, reliability, or suitability of the information.
- Reading our Website, listening to our podcasts, or consuming our media does not establish a consultant-client relationship. The content provided does not constitute actionable, specific cybersecurity advice for your organisation's unique environment.

5. Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, Cosive and its directors, employees, and partners will not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, or punitive damages arising out of your access to, use of, or inability to use the Website. This includes any damages related to loss of data, loss of revenue, or business interruption, even if we have been advised of the possibility of such damages.

6. Third-Party Links

Our Website may contain links to external websites, industry guides, tools, or services operated by third parties (including other cybersecurity organisations). These links are provided for your convenience and informational purposes only.

No Endorsement: The inclusion of any link does not imply endorsement, approval, or recommendation by Cosive of the site, the organisation, or the information and methodologies contained therein.

No Liability: We have no control over the content, security, or privacy practices of these third-party resources. You acknowledge and agree that Cosive shall not be responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, for any damage or loss caused or alleged to be caused by or in connection with your use of or reliance on any such third-party content, goods, or services. We strongly encourage you to evaluate the security and policies of any third-party site before engaging with it.

7. Changes to These Terms

We reserve the right to amend these Terms at any time. When we make material changes, we will update the "Last Updated" date at the top of this page. Your continued use of the Website following the posting of changes will mean that you accept and agree to the changes.

8. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

These Terms are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Victoria, Australia, and New Zealand, depending on the entity with which you are engaging. Any disputes relating to these terms and conditions will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Victoria, Australia.
